

Milk Strike Ends After 6 Hard Days

Wage Increase to Cause 1/2 Cent Price Hike for 12 Million Users; Plants Get Supply

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Marathon negotiations today ended a six-day milk strike in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area, bringing employees higher wages and the region's 12 millions the prospect of higher prices.

Dealers said huge tank trucks already were heading from country farms toward the milk-starved area with the fresh fluid milk. They should start coming out of processing plants for distribution to stores and homes at about 1 p. m. (EST).

Samuel J. Cohen, attorney for the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said the 200 companies involved in the dispute had granted a package increase amounting to about $8.50 a week. The attorney said the actual wage increase is $6. The two-year contract also contains fringe benefits and other improvements, negotiators said.

Irving R. Wisch, chairman of the Industry Negotiating Committee, said he does not believe the retail and wholesale prices of milk will increase "as much as one cent a quart" as a result of the dispute.

1/2 Cent Price Rise

He said he "would guess off-hand, without studying it, the price increase will be one-half a cent per quart wholesale and retail."

The agreement ending the strike of 13,000 drivers and plant workers was hammered out in a 13-hour, all-night session at City Hall.

Company officials warned that the area, which normally uses five million quarts of milk a day, was completely dry. They said that if the strike were to last at least 24 hours before the firms can be operating at sufficient capacity to meet all demands.

Agreement announcement came after about 20 New Jersey milk dealers assembled here on receiving word from the union that contracts were about to be signed. They waited through the night while the regular union and company negotiating teams were at City Hall, where the settlement was announced.

Before the settlement announcement wages had ranged from $82 to $125 a week.

Threat of Lock-In

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri got the regular negotiators together at City Hall late yesterday after threatening to lock them in until a settlement was reached. He did not carry out the threat, however, although a police guard had instructions to keep newsmen away.

Impellitteri had remained at City Hall until midnight, saying only that he was "hopeful."

Long hours of silence followed until about 2 a. m. when word started to circulate that City Hall that New Jersey independent milk firms were being notified of an impending settlement.

A flurry of activity followed, and then several milk dealers used public telephones in the City Hall press room. They were heard

Thayer, Frank, Pulvirenti Cleared; Siegel Censured

An Ulster County Grand Jury on Friday exonerated Harry M. Thayer, editor of the Ellenville Press of a charge of criminal libel, and reported dismissal of charges that he had set a fire at the PVT restaurant on the Saugerties road and a shooting at the Tropical Inn, Port Ewen.

A presentment was handed in by the jury involving Jack Siegel, a village of Ellenville trustee, censuring him for "irregular manner" in which he acted in connection with the purchase and use of culvert pipe.

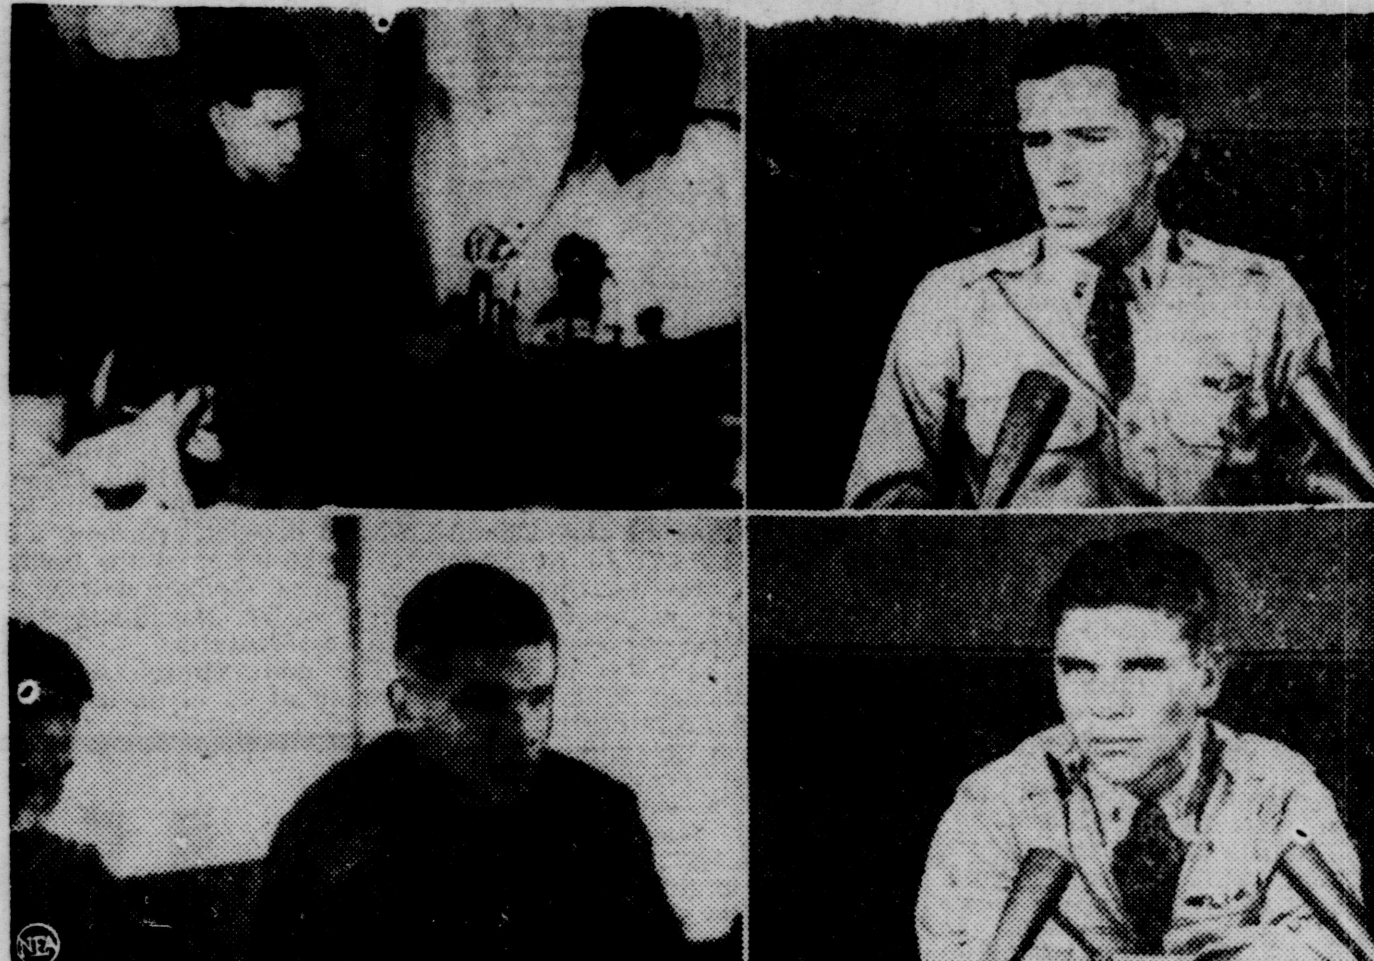

Thayer, who was accused of criminal libel for a story in his paper accusing Sol Steinbock, another village trustee of asking for a "cut" or commission on water meters ordered for the village, also brought to light the Siegel case in his newspaper.

Thayer was arrested on August 18 on a warrant issued by Police Justice Benjamin Lonstein on a charge of violation of Sections 1340, 1341 and 1344 of the Penal law which has to do with criminal libel.

Robert V. Stapleton appeared for Thayer when the case came up in court and after several adjournments the charge was dismissed after a jury had been drawn for the trial. Thayer contended he was entitled to be tried by a 12-man jury and not the justices' jury which had been summoned.

Later the matter was submitted to the Grand Jury sitting at the October term of Supreme Court and that jury reported a dismissal of the charge Friday afternoon when the jury reported to Justice Taylor.

Pavlak Captures Two AWOL Hikers Following Wreck

Greene Undersheriff Gets Bleeding Pair Walking Alsen Tracks After Car Mishap

Two young Brooklyn men who abandoned an allegedly stolen car after it crashed into the railroad underpass at Alsen about 10 p. m. Friday were captured several hours later by Undersheriff Joseph Pavlak, of Greene county.

Ernest W. Rice, 18, of 1878 Broadway, and Charles Maticke, 20, of 18 Granite street, Brooklyn, were taken to the Greene county jail to await New York authorities who will take them into custody on charges accusing them of the theft of the automobile. Both admitted being AWOL servicemen, Pavlak said. Rice from the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune and Maticke from the army at Fort Dix.

State police from several area substations set out roadblocks immediately after the accident was reported, but the two men eluded them by hiding out in the Alsen railroad yard.

Former Freeman Reporter

Pavlak, a former Kingston Daily Freeman reporter who left here in 1947 and was editor of the Catskill Daily Mail until his recent appointment as Greene county undersheriff, was first to come on the accident scene. He set out flares, and meanwhile state police were notified from the nearby Alsen Hotel.

State police found two bloody handkerchiefs and noted on two windshield were broken on both sides, indicating there were two occupants. The front end of the vehicle, a 1947 Dodge that was listed on the police stolen car report, was badly damaged, Pavlak said.

Roadblocks were set out on Route 9W on both sides of the accident and elsewhere throughout the area by troopers from area stations. Among those participating in the search for the occupants were Troopers John Ripa and H. S. Rhodes of the Kingston station; Cpl. Ray Dunn and Trooper George E. Whitting of Phoenixia; Sgt. James Buckley, BCI, and Cpl. Charles Cromwell of Catskill, and details from Ravena and Windham.

Motorists Report Pair

One lead in the case came after Hans Hamm of Saugerties, who was driving north on 9W, reported to police that he had been approached by two hitchhikers who appeared to be bleeding. When Hamm suggested they notify police, they fled, he said.

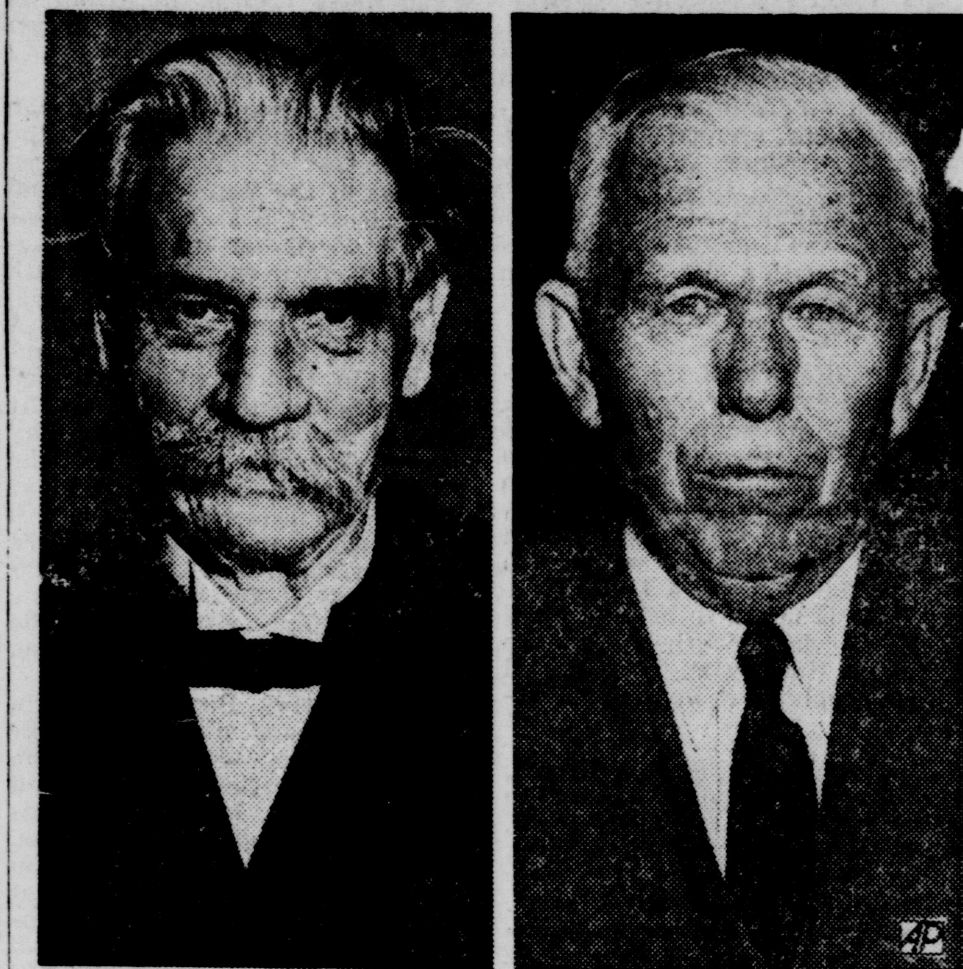

About midnight, Undersheriff Pavlak noticed two men walking on the railroad tracks near Alsen. Calling to them, he noticed they were suffering from cuts, and he took them into custody.

Taken first to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Maticke was treated for a laceration of the head which required the use of sutures to close. Rice suffered

Troy Official Calls Wicks' Record Clean in Flareup

No Crime to See Fay, Says Safety Director, Pointing to 28 Years of Helpfulness

There is no clear-cut issue over Senator Arthur H. Wicks' visits to Joseph Fay, because the precedent of asking influence of labor leaders is well established by political leaders on a local and national level and by business leaders, declared John J. Givney, news editor, Radio Station WTRY, Troy, on his program, "Speaking of News."

Givney, who is commissioner of public safety of Troy, the home town of Dean Taylor, chairman of the Republican State Committee, said that Wicks' clean record of 28 years should color all our thinking on the current controversy and this record alone demands for Wicks more than a little fair and impartial consideration.

The text of his remarks follows: For two weeks now, we have been considering the matter of Senator Arthur Wicks and his visits to convicted labor leader Joe Fay in Sing Sing and Governor Dewey's subsequent demand for his resignation and all the rest. And the more we consider it, the more baffled we become with the principles involved. Maybe our reasoning is weak or our judgment faulty or our sympathies too easily aroused, but for the life of us we cannot see the clear-cut issue as it appears to the governor and others. We won't insist that our reactions to the whole matter must be necessarily sound, but because it is such an over-riding issue on Albany's Capitol Hill, we want to outline our thinking on it tonight.

First, we have Senator Wicks of Kingston, a veteran of 28 years in the Legislature, respected by his colleagues on both sides of the aisle, who worked his way up to become top man in the state Senate, leader of the Republican majority, president pro tem and . . . with the resignation of Lieutenant Governor Frank Moore . . . the Number 2 man, nominally at least, in the Dewey administration.

Record Has Been Clean

For 28 years now, over a period when scandal has touched the New York State Legislature more than once and on both sides of the aisle, Senator Wicks' record has been clean. And this, it seems to us, is extremely important. It should color all our thinking on the current controversy if only because, if Governor Dewey has his way and Senator Wicks is repudiated by his fellow senators at the coming show-down in the special session of the Legislature next month . . . well, Senator Wicks is practically done politically, and that clean record of 28 long years is smashed. It seems to us that this fact alone demands for Wicks more than a little fair and impartial consideration.

If Senator Wicks were caught taking a bribe, or shaking down his employees or his constituents, or using his great influence on behalf of some improper cause or person, obviously he should get out. But what has he done? On several occasions, he went down to Sing Sing and talked with convicted labor leader Joe Fay.

Now, talking with Joe Fay is no crime. Lots of big wigs in state and national politics have rubbed elbows with Mister Fay in the course of their political careers . . . sat with him at banquet tables and conferred with him in smoke-filled rooms and elsewhere. That was of course before he had been convicted of extortion, but even then his general character and methods of operation were well-known to one and all. He had been exposed a dozen times before the law caught up with him. The only thing that has happened since is that he was finally convicted in a court of law and sent to prison.

POW Tells of Torture and Gives Opinion He Thought Reds Didn't Figure on Release

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Pentagon may call in Dr. Charles W. Mayo, noted surgeon and United Nations delegate, to help analyze Communist techniques for wringing "confessions" from captured American fighting men.

This far-flung examination is directed at all aspects of one of the most involved and delicate problems to confront the Defense Department.

It is an expatriation of the cases of 10 American ex-prisoners who repudiated "confessions" they said were made to fend off starvation and brutality, as well as of the cases of five airmen who defied Communist pressure.

Films Made Public

Filmed statements of the 15 men, made to American interrogators upon their return from captivity, were released to the public by the Pentagon last night.

In addition, there were four films made by the Communists of "confessions." These films reached American hands through propaganda channels.

The idea that leading medical experts, like Dr. Mayo, should be asked to help the Pentagon analyze Red interrogation techniques has not been finally approved. It is still in the suggestion and study stage.

One of the five airmen the Pentagon said defied their tormentors was Capt. William M. Preston of Batavia, N. Y. He told of a Communist interrogation camp nicknamed "Pak's Palace," after the North Korean major who ran it—"the most barbaric, evil, vicious man I have ever met."

Involves Russians

Preston said questioning sometimes lasted 20 hours a day. He said he was beaten, cursed and spat at. He said many high-ranking Russians visited the camp and made no attempt to conceal their nationality.

"I think they felt that none of the UN prisoners that were there would ever get back to our own country," Preston said.

The statements of Preston and the other men contained little that was new. Recordings for 10 of the 15 were given the United Nations Assembly at New York Oct. 6 by Henry Cabot Lodge, America's chief UN delegate.

Explains Views

Last Monday, Dr. Mayo delivered to the UN Assembly a scientific analysis of how starvation and mistreatment—crimes of omission rather than commission—could compel confessions without overt acts of torture.

Lodge also is preparing to present to the UN Assembly the U. S. Army's charges that the Communists slaughtered thousands of Americans and other allied captives in Korea. The atrocity charges were made in a brochure, documented with photographs and statistics, released by the army this week.

These moves by Lodge and the Pentagon seemed clearly aimed at laying before the world an indictment of Communist treatment of those who oppose them.

Aimed at Propaganda

The films shown to newsmen yesterday obviously were designed to counter propaganda charges by Russia and her satellites that the Communists were humane.

When Hall and Mrs. Heady were arrested, half the $600,000 ransom paid by Robert C. Greenleaf, the boy's father, was missing. The missing money still is the object of a widespread search.

Among the witnesses from St. Louis were John Hager, cab driver, who tipped police to Hall when he became suspicious of the man's wild drinking and spending spree.

Another witness was Lt. Louis Shoulders, who arrested Hall. Shoulders later resigned after a police board inquiry went into the arrest and delivery of the recovered ransom money. He said his character and reputation as an officer had been assassinated.

Another witness, Sandra O'Day, had been held as a material witness since her arrest Oct. 7. Miss O'Day, Hall's companion at a St. Louis motel before his arrest, was released yesterday. She denied there was a party at the motel the night she was with Hall. There has been speculation that the missing ransom money might have been taken from Hall during a wild party by St. Louis hood-

U. S. Grand Jury Indicts Pair in Greenleaf Case

Kansas City, Oct. 31 (AP)—Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, partners in the abduction of little Bobby Greenleaf, were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on kidnapping charges.

They are expected to be arraigned early next week, possibly Monday, Edward L. Schaeffer, U. S. attorney, has said he will press for an early trial.

Bobby, the six-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, was taken from his exclusive school Sept. 28. He was slain and his body was found in a lime-filled grave in the yard of Mrs. Heady's home at St. Joseph, Mo.

Hall, 34, and Mrs. Heady, 41-year-old divorcee, were arrested in St. Louis Oct. 6. Hall admitted slaying the child after Mrs. Heady took the boy from his school on a ruse.

The jury heard four days of testimony. The indictment pointed out the kidnapped child was not returned unharmed, making the defendants liable to the death penalty. If the two should enter pleas of guilty the judge could request a jury trial to determine whether the maximum penalty

State Grange Would Kill Supports in New Program

Stand Based on Survey of Local Units, 95 U. S. Areas; Benson Is Commended

Elmira, Oct. 31 (AP)—The New York State Grange has adopted a seven-point farm policy statement in which it declares that a new national farm program should ultimately be "free from all price supports and government controls."

But a temporary program of flexible price supports must be continued, the Grange says, "until a leveling off in all segments of our economy can be obtained."

The policy statement was approved at the closing session of the 81st annual meeting of the Grange here yesterday. It was prepared by the committee on a national farm program of the 137,000-member state organization.

The committee reported that its national farm program goal was based on resolutions submitted by 21 local Granges and on National Grange questionnaires returned by 95 other local units.

Elsewhere in its policy statement, the Grange reaffirmed its support of Secretary of Agriculture Benson. It commended him for his efforts in behalf of a new farm program and pledged the State Grange's cooperation in that effort.

Recommendations
The statement will be presented to the National Grange convention next month at Burlington, Vt., by New York's two voting delegates.

Expansion of agricultural research programs to develop new uses and better markets for the farm products.

Adjustment of reciprocal trade agreements to permit other countries to achieve their goal of "more trade and less aid" from the United States.

Would Vote at 18
In other resolutions approved yesterday, the Grange: Urged that the voting age in New York state be lowered from 21 to 18.

Called for legislation requiring all labor unions to submit records of funds collected and expended to a state or federal commission for auditing. The resolution said this would protect "labor, the producer and the consumer against improper use of such funds."

Opposed a federal sales tax. Urged that the state aid formula for public school systems be increased by one-third.

Recommended further development of power facilities at Niagara Falls by private utility companies.

Urged amendments to the state child labor laws permitting children 12 years old and over to do hand work on farms under proper supervision and making parents equally responsible with employers to see that the age limit is enforced.

Recommended that the migrant labor commission study and make recommendation concerning the financial responsibility of migrant workers who purchase and operate motor vehicles in the state.

Called for a law prohibiting the use of the words "ice cream" for any products not made exclusively of milk and cream and requiring that the packages of products made with animal or vegetable fats be plainly marked.

Recommended that federal income tax exemptions be increased to $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married couples filing joint returns, with $600 for each dependent.

Noted that the financial security of the United States was being threatened by a "vast national debt and huge budget" and urged that the federal government give "first consideration" to the United States and less consideration to "totalitarian governments."

Urged that trailer home owners be made to carry a "fair share" of the tax burden, particularly school taxes.

Urged that the state issue two license plates instead of one for motor vehicles as an aid in checking crime and auto accidents.

The Grange has gone on record in favor of a direct preferential primary law for the state and the adoption of the Cooke-Ostrander Amendment to the state constitution.

Clarification of a school bus law now on the books was urged by the farm organization.

The Grange pointed out that roadside signs warn that it is unlawful to pass a stopped school bus while the law also requires buses to display flashing red lights.

In many cases, the resolution said, traffic tie-ups are caused by school buses not being used at the moment to transport children.

In other resolutions, the Grange:

Opposed state legislation requiring fluoridization of water supply systems.

Urged that lower fire insurance rates now prevailing within two miles of fire stations be extended to the entire area of approved fire districts and that all properties be given the lower rates if they are located within an approved fire district.

Nor does it seem that it makes much difference whether the association occurred before or after the racketeer's open crimes . . . or whether the meeting were in Sing Sing Prison or in a hotel room in New York or Atlantic City.

Anyhow Senator Wicks did go down to talk to Fay at Sing Sing. He says he went down to get Fay to use his influence to prevent labor trouble in his district. And that makes sense because there have been some big labor jobs down in Wicks' domain and Joe Fay, in Sing Sing, or out, was the man to see to avoid trouble. Nobody has knocked down Wicks' story and we must in fairness accept it as he gives it. It may be regrettable that our public leaders

Greene Undersheriff Gets Bleeding Pair Walking Aisen Tracks After Car Mishap

Two young Brooklyn men who abandoned an allegedly stolen car after it crashed into the railroad underpass at Aisen about 10 p. m. Friday were captured several hours later by Undersheriff Joseph Pavlak, of Greene county.

Ernest W. Rice, 18, of 1878 Broadway, and Charles Maticke, 20, of 18 Granite street, Brooklyn, were taken to the Greene county jail to await New York authorities who will take them into custody on charges accusing them of the theft of the automobile. Both admitted being AWOL servicemen, Pavlak said. Rice from the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune and Maticke from the army at Fort Dix.

State police from several area substations set out roadblocks immediately after the accident was reported, but the two men eluded them by hiding out in the Aisen railroad yard.

Former Freeman Reporter Pavlak, a former Kingston Daily Freeman reporter who left here in 1947 and was editor of the Catskill Daily Mail until his recent appointment as Greene county undersheriff, was first to come on the accident scene. He set out flares, and meanwhile state police were notified from the nearby Aisen Hotel.

State police found two bloody handkerchiefs and noted that the windshield was broken on both sides, indicating there were two occupants. The front end of the vehicle, a 1947 Dodge that was listed on the police stolen car report, was badly damaged, Pavlak said.

Roadblocks were set out on Route 9W on both sides of the accident and elsewhere throughout the area by troopers from area stations. Among those participating in the search for the occupants were Troopers John Ripa and H. S. Rhodes of the Kingston station; Cpl. Ray Dunn and Trooper George E. Whiting of Poughkeepsie; Sgt. James Buckley, Bt., and Cpl. Charles Crommie of Catskill; and details from Ravena and Windham.

Motorists Report Pair
One lead in the case came after Hans Hamm of Saugerties, who was driving north on 9W, reported to police that he had been approached by two hitchhikers who appeared to be bleeding. When Hamm suggested they notify police, they fled, he said.

About midnight, Undersheriff Pavlak noticed two men walking on the railroad tracks near Aisen. Calling to them, he noticed they were suffering from cuts, and he took them into custody.

Taken first to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Maticke was treated for a laceration of the head which required the use of sutures to close. Rice suffered

Troy Official Calls Wicks' Record Clean in Flareup

No Crime to See Fay, Says Safety Director, Pointing to 28 Years of Helpfulness

There is no clear-cut issue over Senator Arthur H. Wicks' visits to Joseph Fay, because the precedent of asking influence of labor leaders is well established by political leaders on a local and national level and by business leaders, declared John J. Givney, news editor, Radio Station WTRY, Troy, on his program, "Speaking of News."

Givney, who is commissioner of public safety of Troy, the home town of Dean Taylor, chairman of the Republican State Committee, said that Wicks' clean record of 28 years should color all our thinking on the current controversy and this record alone demands for Wicks more than a little fair and impartial consideration.

The text of his remarks follows: For two weeks now, we have been considering the matter of Senator Arthur Wicks and his visits to convicted labor leader Joe Fay in Sing Sing and Governor Dewey's subsequent demand for his resignation and all the rest. And the more we consider it, the more baffled we become with the principles involved. Maybe our reasoning is weak or our judgment faulty or our sympathies too easily aroused, but for the life of us we cannot see the clear-cut issue as it appears to the governor and others. We won't insist that our reactions to the whole matter must be necessarily sound, but because it is such an over-riding issue on Albany's Capitol Hill, we attempt to outline our thinking on it tonight.

First, we have Senator Wicks of Kingston, a veteran of 28 years in the Legislature, respected by his colleagues on both sides of the aisle, who worked his way up to become top man in the state Senate, leader of the Republican majority, president pro tem and . . . with the resignation of Lieutenant Governor Frank Moore . . . the Number 2 man, nominally at least, in the Dewey administration.

Of course, associating with a notorious labor racketeer is no crime in itself, however much we think that persons aspiring to public leadership should avoid them. Nor does it seem that it makes much difference whether the association occurred before or after the racketeer's open crimes . . . or whether the meeting were in Sing Sing Prison or in a hotel room in New York or Atlantic City.

Anyhow Senator Wicks did go down to talk to Fay at Sing Sing. He says he went down to get Fay to use his influence to prevent labor trouble in his district. And that makes sense because there have been some big labor jobs down in Wicks' domain and Joe Fay, in Sing Sing, or out, was the man to see to avoid trouble. Nobody has knocked down Wicks' story and we must in fairness accept it as he gives it. It may be regrettable that our public leaders

U. S. Grand Jury Indicts Pair in Greenlease Case
Kansas City, Oct. 31 (AP)—Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, partners in the abduction of little Bobby Greenlease, were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on kidnapping charges.

They are expected to be arraigned early next week, possibly Monday, Edward L. Schueller, U. S. attorney, has said he will press for an early trial.

Bobby, the six-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, was taken from his exclusive school Sept. 28. He was slain and his body was found in a lime-filled grave in the yard of Mrs. Heady's home at St. Joseph, Mo.

Hall, 34, and Mrs. Heady, 41-year-old divorcee, were arrested in St. Louis Oct. 6. Hall admitted slaying the child after Mrs. Heady took the boy from his school on a ruse.

The jury heard four days of testimony. The indictment pointed out the kidnapping was not returned unarmed, making the defendants liable to the death penalty. If the two should enter pleas of guilty the judge could request a jury trial to determine whether the maximum penalty should be inflicted. Much of the testimony before the grand jury was concerned with St. Louis developments in the case.

When Hall and Mrs. Heady were arrested, half the $600,000 ransom paid by Robert C. Greenlease, the boy's father, was missing. The missing money still is the object of a widespread search.

Among the witnesses from St. Louis were John Hager, cab driver, who tipped police to Hall when he became suspicious of the man's wild drinking and spending spree. Another witness was Lt. Louis Shoulters, who arrested Hall. Shoulters later resigned after a police board inquiry went into the arrest and delivery of the recovered ransom money. He said his character and reputation as an officer had been assassinated.

Another witness, Sandra O'Day, had been held as a material witness since her arrest here Oct. 7. Miss O'Day, Hall's companion at a St. Louis motel before his arrest, was released yesterday. She denied there was a party at the motel the night she was with Hall. There has been speculation that the missing ransom money might have been taken from Hall during a wild party by St. Louis hood-

POW Tells of Torture and Gives Opinion He Thought Reds Didn't Figure on Release

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Pentagon may call in Dr. Charles W. Mayo, noted surgeon and United Nations delegate, to help analyze Communist techniques for wringing "confessions" from captured American fighting men.

This far-flung examination is directed at all aspects of one of the most involved and delicate problems to confront the Defense Department.

It is an exploration of the cases of 10 American ex-prisoners who repudiated "confessions" they said were made to fend off starvation and brutality, as well as of the cases of five airmen who defied Communist pressure.

Films Made Public
Filmed statements of the 15 men, made to American interrogators upon their return from captivity, were released to the public by the Pentagon last night.

In addition, there were four films made by the Communists of "confessions." These films reached American hands through propaganda channels.

The idea that leading medical experts, like Dr. Mayo, should be asked to help the Pentagon analyze Red interrogation techniques has not been finally approved. It is still in the suggestion and study stage.

One of the five airmen the Pentagon said defied their tormentors was Capt. William M. Preston of Batavia, N. Y. He told of a Communist "interrogation" camp nicknamed "Pak's Palace" after the North Korean major who ran it—"the most barbaric, evil, vicious man I have ever met."

Preston said questioning sometimes lasted 20 hours a day. He said he was beaten, cursed and spat at. He said many high-ranking Russians visited the camp and made no attempt to conceal their nationality.

Involves Russians
Preston said questioning sometimes lasted 20 hours a day. He said he was beaten, cursed and spat at. He said many high-ranking Russians visited the camp and made no attempt to conceal their nationality.

"I think they felt that none of the UN prisoners that were there would ever get back to our own country," Preston said.

The statements of Preston and the other men contained little that was new. Recordings for 10 of the 15 were given the United Nations Assembly at New York Oct. 6 by Henry Cabot Lodge, America's chief UN delegate.

Explains Views
Last Monday, Dr. Mayo delivered to the UN Assembly a scientific analysis of how starvation and mistreatment—crimes of omission rather than commission—could compel confessions without overt acts of torture.

Lodge also is preparing to present to the UN Assembly the U. S. Army's charges that the Communists slaughtered thousands of Americans and other allied captives in Korea. The atrocity charges were made in a brochure, documented with photographs and statistics, released by the army this week.

These moves by Lodge and the Pentagon seemed clearly aimed at laying before the world an indictment of Communist treatment of those who oppose them.

Aimed at Propaganda
The films shown to newsmen yesterday obviously were designed to counter propaganda charges by Russia and her satellites that the

Two Phases Will Comprise United Mission in Area

The United Evangelistic Mission which begins Nov. 8 in all Methodist Churches of the New York Conference, will be carried forward in two phases, Mission leaders explained this week.

Teams of workers will call each evening, Nov. 8-13 on prospective church members to discuss possible church affiliation. At the same time, services will be conducted each night at 7:30 o'clock, with guest pastors bringing the evangelistic messages. In each church, the visitation teams will alternate calling one night, and attending services the next night. A report of commitments to Christ and His Church will be made each night to the chairman of visitation in each Church.

Using the slogan Give God a Chance, the participating congregations are joined in a program based on "united believing, united caring, united praying, united witnessing, and united worshipping." Where this program has been carried on in other parts of the country, churches have increased their membership from 10-50 per cent. A total of 131,109 persons joined the Methodist Church last year as the result of 33 Missions in the West, Middle-west and Southern sections.

Spiritual Point Stressed

While the Mission in the New York Area will also result in the addition of a large number of new members, Bishop Frederick B. Newell joins other Mission leaders in stressing the spiritual significance of the movement.

"The purpose of this Mission is two-fold," Bishop Newell said recently. "First there will be a definite effort to strengthen the spiritual life of the churches. Living as we do in an age of moral confusion and spiritual decline there is no greater task to which church members may be called than this: To strengthen their moral fibre, and to build for themselves a deeper spiritual understanding. We are, therefore, calling the 350,000 members of our churches in this area to renew their vows, to live more upright lives, and to work for the building of a better community.

Must Carry Message

"The second purpose of the Mission," Bishop Newell explained, is to carry the message of Christ to the unchurched in every community where our churches are situated. It is our profound conviction that a living church must not stand still. It must grow. To this end we are seeking to win 35,000 new members in the area this fall."

Dr. D. George Davies, superintendent of the Kingston District, has announced that the Rev. Walter C. Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church of Marion, O., will conduct Seminar sessions for host and guest pastors on the Assimilation of New Members Seminar sessions are to be held each morning while the Mission is in progress at St. James Methodist Church. The Rev. Merle G. Stone of Springfield, Vt., also will conduct a discussion group each morning on Visitation Evangelism.

The following committees for the Kingston District also were announced by Dr. Davies: Spiritual Preparation—O. Gerald Lawson, chairman; Jefferson; Clyde H. Snell, Kingston; Herbert W. Hahn, Ravena.

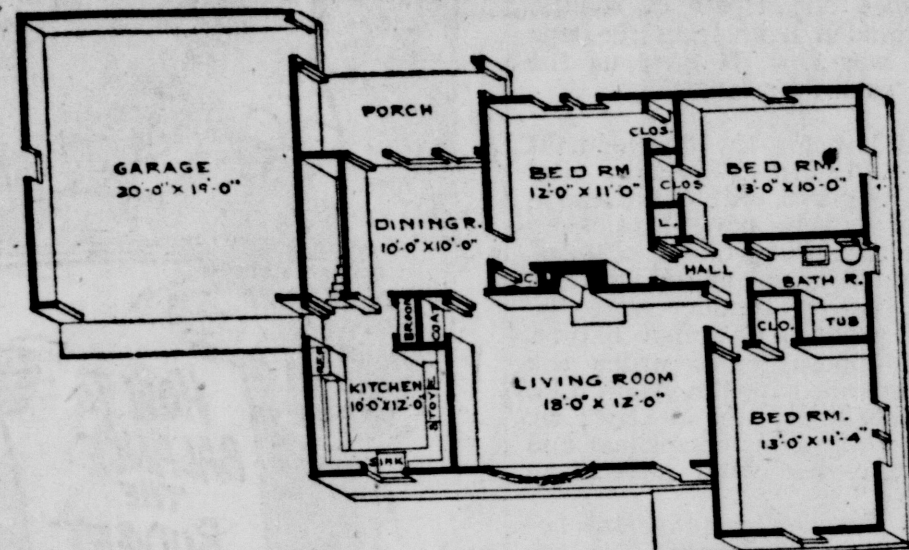

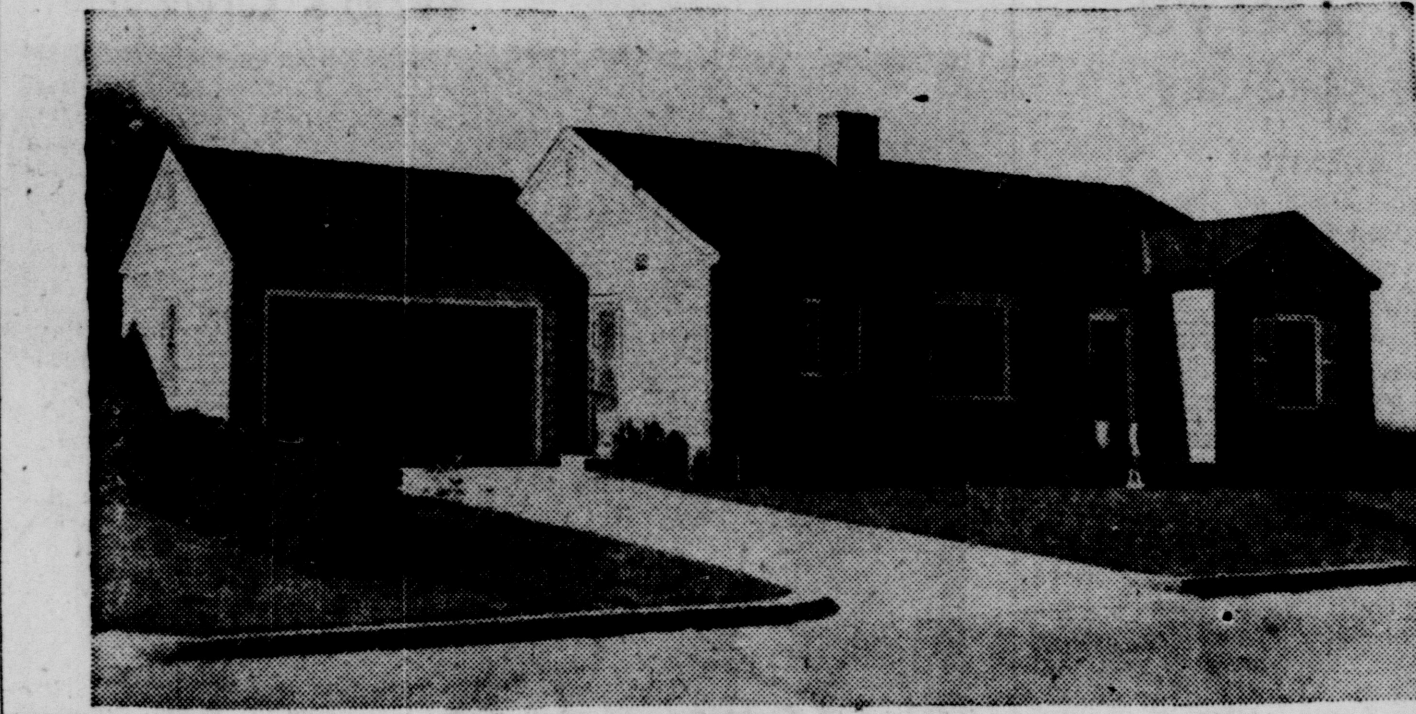

Visitation—Richard W. Moore, Franklin, chairman; James H. Cox, Shandaken; Francis A. Potter, Greenville.

Public Services and Publicity—Dr. Ralph M. Houston, Kingston, chairman; Eugene L. Crabb, Margaretville; Henry G. Lincoln, Walton; Ivan F. Gossio, Kingston; Robert A. Gevert, Windham. Finance—William R. Phinney, Stamford; Gerald Matthews, Delhi; Harlon Kishpaugh, Cornwallville; Fred P. Decker, Kingston.

Assimilation of New Members—George P. Werner, Saugerties, chairman; Warren S. Churchill, Coxsack; Kenneth B. Truran, Hobart.

The DAVENPORT

Three Bedrooms in Charming 'Davenport'

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Six
Cubage:

House 22,200 ft.
Garage 6,300 ft.
Dimensions 61'x38'

Comfortable, neat and attractive, "The Davenport," introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is a charmingly modern three bedroom house. Both inside and out "The Davenport" is designed for the typical modern family that prefers informal living and entertaining.

Measuring 61'x38', "The Davenport" has a cubage of 22,200 feet; cubage of the garage is 6,300 feet. At least an 85 foot lot would be required to build the house plus the garage. "The Davenport" can be built fairly near to the street or roadway without in any way diminishing the overall exterior charms of this house. Simple landscaping is suggested, and a combination finish lends itself most attractively to the architectural style of "The Davenport."

In keeping with one of the most popular of the newer trends in interior home planning, the kitchen is located at the front of "The Davenport." Compact and carefully planned as a work center, the kitchen doesn't contain sufficient room for a breakfast nook. Since the dining room is connected directly to the kitchen, however, the absence of a breakfast nook presents no meal serving problem to the housewife.

Reached through the door in the back wall of the dining room is a good sized porch which you can screen in and use as a summer dining room if you so desire. Install a French door on the doorway and you'll enjoy that much more light in your dining room.

In the long living room the fireplace in the back wall and the bay window in the front wall share the decorative spotlight—with each feature helping to make this room the attractive one that it is. The long expanses of unbroken area along the left and right wall of the room facilitate the arrangement of large furniture pieces.

All of the bedrooms in "The Davenport" enjoy excellent lighting and cross ventilation. There is a large closet in each room, too. Located conveniently near to the bedrooms, the bath is large enough to contain both a tub and a built-in shower.

In "The Davenport" the laundry should be located in the basement; it should be placed under the kitchen or bathroom. The heating plant can be installed under the living room.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Making Shingles Tight

To increase the wind-resistance of asphalt shingles, shingle tabs can be cemented down with quick-setting asphalt cement. This is recommended for roofs in exposed locations where high winds are frequent.

Room Color Scheme Can Be Built Around Picture

If you have a favorite picture or painting whose colors are especially appealing, the entire color plan of your room may be keyed to the coloring in the picture. Use the colors in your room in the same proportion in which the artist used them in the picture, for happy results.

Room colors can be borrowed from other favorite possessions, such as a vase, a lovely lamp, a collection of fine glass or china. Since their colors were selected by skilled artists and craftsmen, pleasing color harmony is assured.

UNCOLORFUL NEWS

J. B. Bogart had a point when he said: "When a dog bites a man, that is not news, but when a man bites a dog, that is news." He had a point; but he is not 100 per cent right. For even a dog biting a man makes fairly good copy. Granted that when the man bites the dog the story has more punch. There is, however, some news value in those incidents where the canine sinks his teeth in human flesh. But it is when the dog behaves himself and does not attempt to take a hunk out of anybody's leg that there is nothing to report. The very qualities which make him a nice dog also makes him a dud on the news market. By being kindly and decent he surrenders his ability to "make" the papers.

Nobody ever read in the newspaper about how John Doe drove his car safely for 20-odd years without a hint of an accident or the tiniest scratch on any of the fenders of his various vintage of gasoline buggies. Newspapers print what people will read—or try to—and no one was ever lured to read a paper by a headline that read: "Sane Resident Never Hit Tree." Nobody yet ever paused beside the road to take a picture of a car that hadn't hit a tree. But let a car plow headlong into one and the traffic halts and the shutters snap.

Last June the "Wall Street Journal" reported, editorially, (no other way to report this kind) three bits of uncolorful news. A young girl gave up her chance at big prize money in a spelling bee by telling the judges that she had spelled the word wrong. A golfer looked at the posted tournament score and saw that he was credited with a lower score than he had made. He corrected it and cut himself out of a larger prize. A mother returned $2,000 to a bank which her daughter had found on the floor. Attached was a note that read: "We teach our children never to take what is not theirs." It is a strange set-up where thieving makes headlines and honesty can't even make the back page. Especially so since all of society's assets are recorded in the most uncolorful kind of news. For when there is "nothing to report" it usually means that devilry took a vacation and the cars all stayed on the road where they belong and nobody's baby swallowed a safety pin.

O for the luxury of a few newsless days sandwiched in with today's gory avalanches of strife and crime! I have a sneaking suspicion that even the newsmen would enjoy that respite.

Recordings Will Tell Christians' Life in Prisons

The first in a series of original recordings of the experiences of Christians in Chinese Communist Prisons will be presented at the Old First Dutch Church Sunday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p. m.

Featured on the recordings will be Dr. F. Olin Stockwell, author of the book, With God in Red China; Dr. John D. Hayes, member of the United Foreign Service Department, and Dr. Henry Poppen, for 33 years president of a Chinese Christian College.

Everyone is invited to attend the meetings, and no admission charge will be made. The second meeting in the series, on Nov. 8, will feature interpretations of Communism by the missionaries. Dates and features of future meetings in the series will be announced.

Meetings will be held in Bethany Hall. The programs are inter-denominational in character.

Two Phases Will Comprise United Mission in Area

The United Evangelistic Mission which begins Nov. 8 in all Methodist Churches of the New York Conference, will be carried forward in two phases, Mission leaders explained this week.

Teams of workers will call each evening, Nov. 8-13 on prospective church members to discuss possible church affiliation. At the same time, services will be conducted each night at 7:30 o'clock, with guest pastors bringing the evangelistic messages. In each church, the visitation teams will alternate calling one night, and attending services the next night. A report of commitments to Christ and His Church will be made each night to the chairman of visitation in each Church.

Using the slogan Give God a Chance, the participating congregations are joined in a program based on "united believing, united caring, united praying, united witnessing, and united worshipping." Where this program has been carried on in other parts of the country, churches have increased their membership from 10-50 per cent. A total of 131,109 persons joined the Methodist Church last year as the result of 33 Missions in the West, Middle-west and Southern sections.

Spiritual Point Stressed
While the Mission in the New York Area will also result in the addition of a large number of new members, Bishop Frederick B. Newell joins other Mission leaders in stressing the spiritual significance of the movement.

"The purpose of this Mission is two-fold," Bishop Newell said recently. "First there will be a definite effort to strengthen the spiritual life of the churches. Living as we do in an age of moral confusion and spiritual decline, there is no greater task to which church members may be called than this: To strengthen their moral fibre, and to build for themselves a deeper spiritual understanding. We are, therefore, calling the 350,000 members of our churches in this area to renew their vows, to live more upright lives, and to work for the building of a better community.

Must Carry Message
"The second purpose of the Mission," Bishop Newell explained, is to carry the message of Christ to the unchurched in every community where our churches are situated. It is our profound conviction that a living church must not stand still. It must grow. To this end we are seeking to win 35,000 new members in the area this fall."

Dr. D. George Davies, superintendent of the Kingston District, has announced that the Rev. Walter C. Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church of Marion, O., will conduct Seminary sessions for host and guest pastors on the Assimilation of New Members Seminary sessions are to be held each morning while the Mission is in progress at St. James Methodist Church. The Rev. Merle G. Stone of Springfield, Vt., also will conduct a discussion group each morning on Visitation Evangelism.

in the hands of similar committees in cooperation with the pastor and Official Board. Churches in or near Kingston that have announced committee chairmen are as follows:

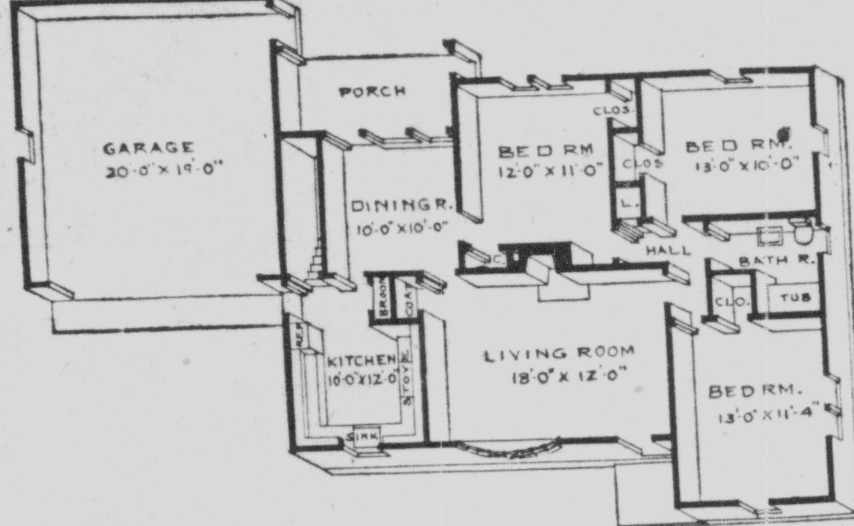

St. James Methodist—Dr. R. M. Houston, pastor; Herbert O. Frost, Spiritual Preparation; Philip Kerney, visitation.

Clinton Avenue Methodist—Dr. C. H. Snell, pastor; Mrs. Clayton Smith, Spiritual Preparation; Howard Shultis, visitation; Thomas Miller, publicity.

Trinity Methodist—Ivan F. Gosso, pastor; Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, Sr., Spiritual Preparation; Vernon Brodhead, visitation; Charles W. Shultis, publicity; Harry Ennist, finance.

Port Ewen Methodist—F. Clair St. John, pastor; Mrs. George Castor, Spiritual Preparation and Visitation; John Potter, publicity.

The United Evangelistic Mission in the New York Area is part of a world-wide effort within the Methodist Church to win 250,000 new members to the Church, in commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley, founder of Methodism.

Three Bedrooms in Charming 'Davenport'

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Six
Cubage:

House 22,200 ft.
Garage 6,300 ft.
Dimensions 61'x38'

Comfortable, neat and attractive, "The Davenport," introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is a charmingly modern three bedroom house. Both inside and out "The Davenport" is designed for the typical modern family that prefers informal living and entertaining.

Measuring 61'x38', "The Davenport" has a cubage of 22,200 feet; cubage of the garage is 6,300 feet. At least an 85 foot lot would be required to build the house plus the garage. "The Davenport" can be built fairly near to the street or roadway without in any way diminishing the overall exterior charms of this house. Simple landscaping is suggested, and a combination finish lends itself most attractively to the architectural style of "The Davenport."

In keeping with one of the most popular of the newer trends in interior home planning, the kitchen is located at the front of "The Davenport." Compact and carefully planned as a work center, the kitchen doesn't contain sufficient room for a breakfast nook. Since the dining room is connected directly to the kitchen, however, the absence of a breakfast nook presents no meal serving problem to the housewife.

Reached through the door in the back wall of the dining room is a good sized porch which you can screen in and use as a summer dining room if you so desire. Install a French door on the doorway and you'll enjoy that much more light in your dining room.

In the long living room the fireplace in the back wall and the bay window in the front wall share the decorative spotlight—with each feature helping to make this room the attractive one that it is. The long expanses of unbroken area along the left and right wall of the room facilitate the arrangement of large furniture pieces.

All of the bedrooms in "The Davenport" enjoy excellent lighting and cross ventilation. There is a large closet in each room, too. Located conveniently near to the bedrooms, the bath is large enough to contain both a tub and a built in shower.

In "The Davenport" the laundry should be located in the basement; it should be placed under the kitchen or bathroom. The heating plant can be installed under the living room.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Making Shingles Tight
To increase the wind-resistance of asphalt shingles, shingle tabs can be cemented down with quick-setting asphalt cement. This is recommended for roofs in exposed locations where high winds are frequent.

Room Color Scheme Can Be Built Around Picture

If you have a favorite picture or painting whose colors are especially appealing, the entire color plan of your room may be keyed to the coloring in the picture. Use the colors in your room in the same proportion in which the artist used them in the picture, for happy results.

Room colors can be borrowed from other favorite possessions, such as a vase, a lovely lamp, a collection of fine glass or china. Since their colors were selected by skilled artists and craftsmen, pleasing color harmony is assured.

UNCOLORFUL NEWS

J. B. Bogart had a point when he said: "When a dog bites a man, that is not news, but when a man bites a dog, that is news." He had a point; but he is not 100 per cent right. For even a dog biting a man makes fairly good copy. Granted that when the man bites the dog the story has more punch. There is, however, some news value in those incidents where the canine sinks his teeth in human flesh. But it is when the dog behaves himself and does not attempt to take a hunk out of anybody's leg that there is nothing to report. The very qualities which make him a nice dog also makes him a dud on the news market. By being kindly and decent he surrenders his ability to "make" the papers.

Nobody ever read in the newspaper about how John Doe drove his car sanely for 20-odd years without a hint of an accident or the tiniest scratch on any of the fenders of his various vintage of gasoline buggies. Newspapers print what people will read—or try to—and no one was ever lured to read a paper by a headline that went: "Sane Resident Never Hit Tree." Nobody yet ever paused beside the road to take a picture of a car that hadn't hit a tree. But let a car plow headlong into one and the traffic halts and the shutters snap.

Last June the "Wall Street Journal" reported editorially (no three bits of uncolorful news. A young girl gave up her chance at big prize money in a spelling bee by telling the judges that she had spelled the word wrong. A golfer looked at the posted tournament score and saw that he was credited with a lower score than he had made. He corrected it and cut himself out of a larger prize. A mother returned $2,000 to a bank which her daughter had found on the floor. Attached was a note that read: "We teach our children never to take what is not theirs." It is a strange set-up where thieving makes headlines and honesty can't even make the back page. Especially so since all of society's assets are recorded in the most uncolorful kind of news. For when there is "nothing to report" it usually means that devilry took a vacation and the cars all stayed on the road where they belong and nobody's baby swallowed a safety pin.

For the luxury of a few newsless days sandwiched in with today's gory avalanches of strife and crime! I have a sneaking suspicion that even the newsmen would enjoy that respite.

Recordings Will Tell Christians' Life in Prisons

Everyone is invited to attend the meetings, and no admission charge will be made. The second meeting in the series, on Nov. 8, will feature interpretations of Communism by the missionaries. Dates and features of future meetings in the series will be announced.

Meetings will be held in Bethany Hall. The programs are inter-denominational in character.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 31, 1953

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Next Tuesday the voters of the City of Kingston will be called upon to elect the administrative heads of the city government for the next two years. This has been an unusually quiet local election, however, during this week the candidates and some issues have been discussed giving the voters an opportunity to consider them.

The Republican Party realizing the importance of electing to office men who are fitted to occupy the positions to which they aspire has placed in the field two very capable candidates to conduct the business of the city. Frederick H. Stang, the Republican candidate for mayor, is eminently qualified for the important office of mayor. He is familiar with municipal administration, having been clerk of the Board of Supervisors and county attorney of Ulster County for many years. With this background of knowledge and experience, he will be able to administer the city's business on an efficient and economical basis.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly, who seeks reelection on the Republican ticket, is well known to all residents of the city. He has earned the reputation of presiding over Common Council sessions fairly and impartially, extending the privilege of the floor to everyone seeking to be heard on governmental matters. As Acting Mayor, Kelly has served efficiently in the absence of Mayor Newkirk and devoted a large portion of his time to city business. A very popular candidate and office holder, he should be returned to office with a large plurality.

In the wards of the city aldermen also will be elected. The Common Council is an important municipal body and the best qualified candidates should be elected to it. The Republican Party has chosen men who will give the city good representation in that body.

Supervisors also are to be elected this year. Under Republican control and responsibility for a number of years, the county has had efficient administration. To continue efficiency in government, the candidates on the Republican ticket in the various wards of this city should be returned to office.

LOWERING THE BARS

The New York Yankees will try out two Negro players. This creates another opening for talented Negroes. Heretofore the Yankees have drawn the color line, though the other two city teams, the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, have played Negroes for years. Indeed it was the Dodgers, when Branch Rickey directed operations, who in 1947 signed the first Negro in big league history, Jackie Robinson.

Some other big league teams still discriminate, among them the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators. The Yankees, however, being the foremost team in the game, have presented the greatest obstacle to drawing the color line.

Negro fans will rejoice at the new move. Their pleasure will not be shared by the other teams in the league. For five years, without using Negro talent, the Yankees have been unbeatable. What chance is there for their rivals now that the champions can draw on a hitherto untapped source of strength?

TRAFFIC SIGNS

"Stop!" This word in traffic signs has the merit of being clear, but, like other good things, it can be overdone. New York City is substituting the sign "Yield Right of Way" at intersections where it is not necessary for the driver to come to a full stop if he watches what is coming on the other street. The idea originated in Tulsa, Okla., and has also been tried in Providence, R. I.

The language of signs has not been thoroughly worked out. Some are more comprehensible than others. Some include wording not easily understood. Certain cities call main roads "arterial highways," others "boulevards." In one midwestern state signs in the country often read "Soft Shoulders," which should mean something to most people.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHAT IS REALITY?

One of the inevitable effects of the existence of the devastating hydrogen bomb is that thoughtful human beings are wondering about the world they live in and its future. When the atom bomb appalled our consciousness, we realized that we had reached an age of destructiveness that was, for the moment, beyond our imagination. Now we know that more effective means of destruction are at hand and that greater means will be evolved. There are no limits to these deadly powers.

The scientists themselves are frightened by their offspring. The more they know, the more frightened they are. Alexis Carrel, one of the most brilliant minds of our age, left a posthumous book, "Reflections on Life," in which he has this to say:

"Man has only grasped one aspect of reality. He has plucked the forbidden fruit from the tree of knowledge before it was ripe. It gave us the knowledge of all things save ourselves."

Then he says:
"... One essential law for the development of living beings is that of effort. Muscles, vital organs, intelligence and will can only be strengthened by work. No error can be more fatal than that of suppressing the voluntary effort of mind and muscle and the involuntary one of the adaptive systems. Our ancestral laws of conduct were the expression of a profound intuition of human nature. Christian morality also imposes rules which are none other than those intended by life itself. Life has replied to our disobedience to its laws by estranging itself from us; a reply at once silent and brutal. Only the most clear-sighted have been aware of the danger..."

The degeneration of the race is universal because lack of self-discipline is universal. The enforced discipline of the totalitarian state or the enslavement exercised by the Communists are not substitutes for self-discipline. Strong nations base themselves not on the exercise of power over each individual but depend upon the strength that comes from the morality of its citizens living within the social disciplines of the family.

Patriotism is self-respect. When self-respect degenerates, the family loses its primary purpose, which is self-discipline within an intimate group; after that, love of country is dissipated into the elevation of private whim above the common good.

An ugly example of this is the shamelessness of those who spy upon their own country in the interests of its foes. Thousands of young men and women some Marxists, some not, some only willful people, have joined in a conspiracy against what normal human beings always love. The Rosenbergs went to their deaths without explaining why they did so much harm to their country.

The Rosenbergs are only two of a horde of spies and saboteurs who have invaded almost all phases of American life. Harry Truman's rejection of Senator Jenner's statement that these creatures have invaded every phase of American life is not astonishing. Harry Truman called the accusations of Alger Hiss a "red herring." He tolerated Harry Dexter White. He protected Owen Lattimore, who is now under indictment in a case of perjury.

Does this mean that Harry Truman preferred Communists, spies, fellow travelers or dupes? It does not. Harry Truman's reaction is normal among Americans who fear reality and run from it. Americans live in the memory of a good world when a man's word was his bond and when a handshake on a deal made it final. It was a moral world in which men were ashamed of wrongdoing because they were sure about right and wrong.

Realistically, that world is no longer ours. Just as the existence of the atom and hydrogen bombs would affect our thinking on many phases of life, so the impact of Marxism affects our morals. Just as in economics, Gresham's Law prevails that bad money drives out good money, so in morals, the acceptance of wickedness as a possible way of life drives the Ten Commandments, the revealed law of God, from our way of life.

Were our people ready to accept reality, they would solve many of their problems. Their nature would quickly change because they accepted reality. It is their unwillingness to believe the truth, to recognize their own errors, their errors of education, of the upbringing of their children, of their obligations as citizens, that aids the degenerative characteristics of our era.

Carrel grasped the essential flaw of the age in which he lived and died.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RELIEF IN STOMACH AND PEPTIC ULCER

Physicians tell us that over 75 per cent of their patients consult them because they are in pain and wish speedy relief.

Two of the commonest ailments of mankind are arthritis and stomach ulcer and, fortunately, physicians have drugs that can give relief. In the case of arthritis, the two new wonder drugs, cortisone and ACTH give relief, and for stomach ulcer any food or the old-fashioned baking soda give relief from pain.

A new drug for relief of pain of stomach ulcer that is receiving much publicity is Banthine, a patient being able to get relief in a very short time.

However, your physician will tell you that while the patient wants relief from his pain immediately, this quick relief often masks or hides the cause of the pain and it may take some time and investigation to find what is the underlying cause or causes of the symptoms.

The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Paul Dieckhoff, Ithaca, and his colleagues report the effect of the drug Banthine in the treatment of 34 patients, 29 with stomach ulcer and 5 with duodenal ulcer (first part of the small intestine into which the stomach empties its contents). Their symptoms lasted at least two years and all of them had already had at least one course of treatment without becoming free of their symptoms. In fact, they were considered ready for operation as a last resort. With a dose of 50 mg. of Banthine four times daily, freedom from pain was soon achieved, notably freedom from both hunger and pain. After three months, two-thirds of these patients were still free from pain and one-third showed healing of the ulcer by radiium. But after a year only one-third were still free from pain and only one-fifth showed healing by radiium. During the same year, 10 of the 34 were operated on.

What do we learn from the Banthine treatment of stomach and intestinal ulcer?

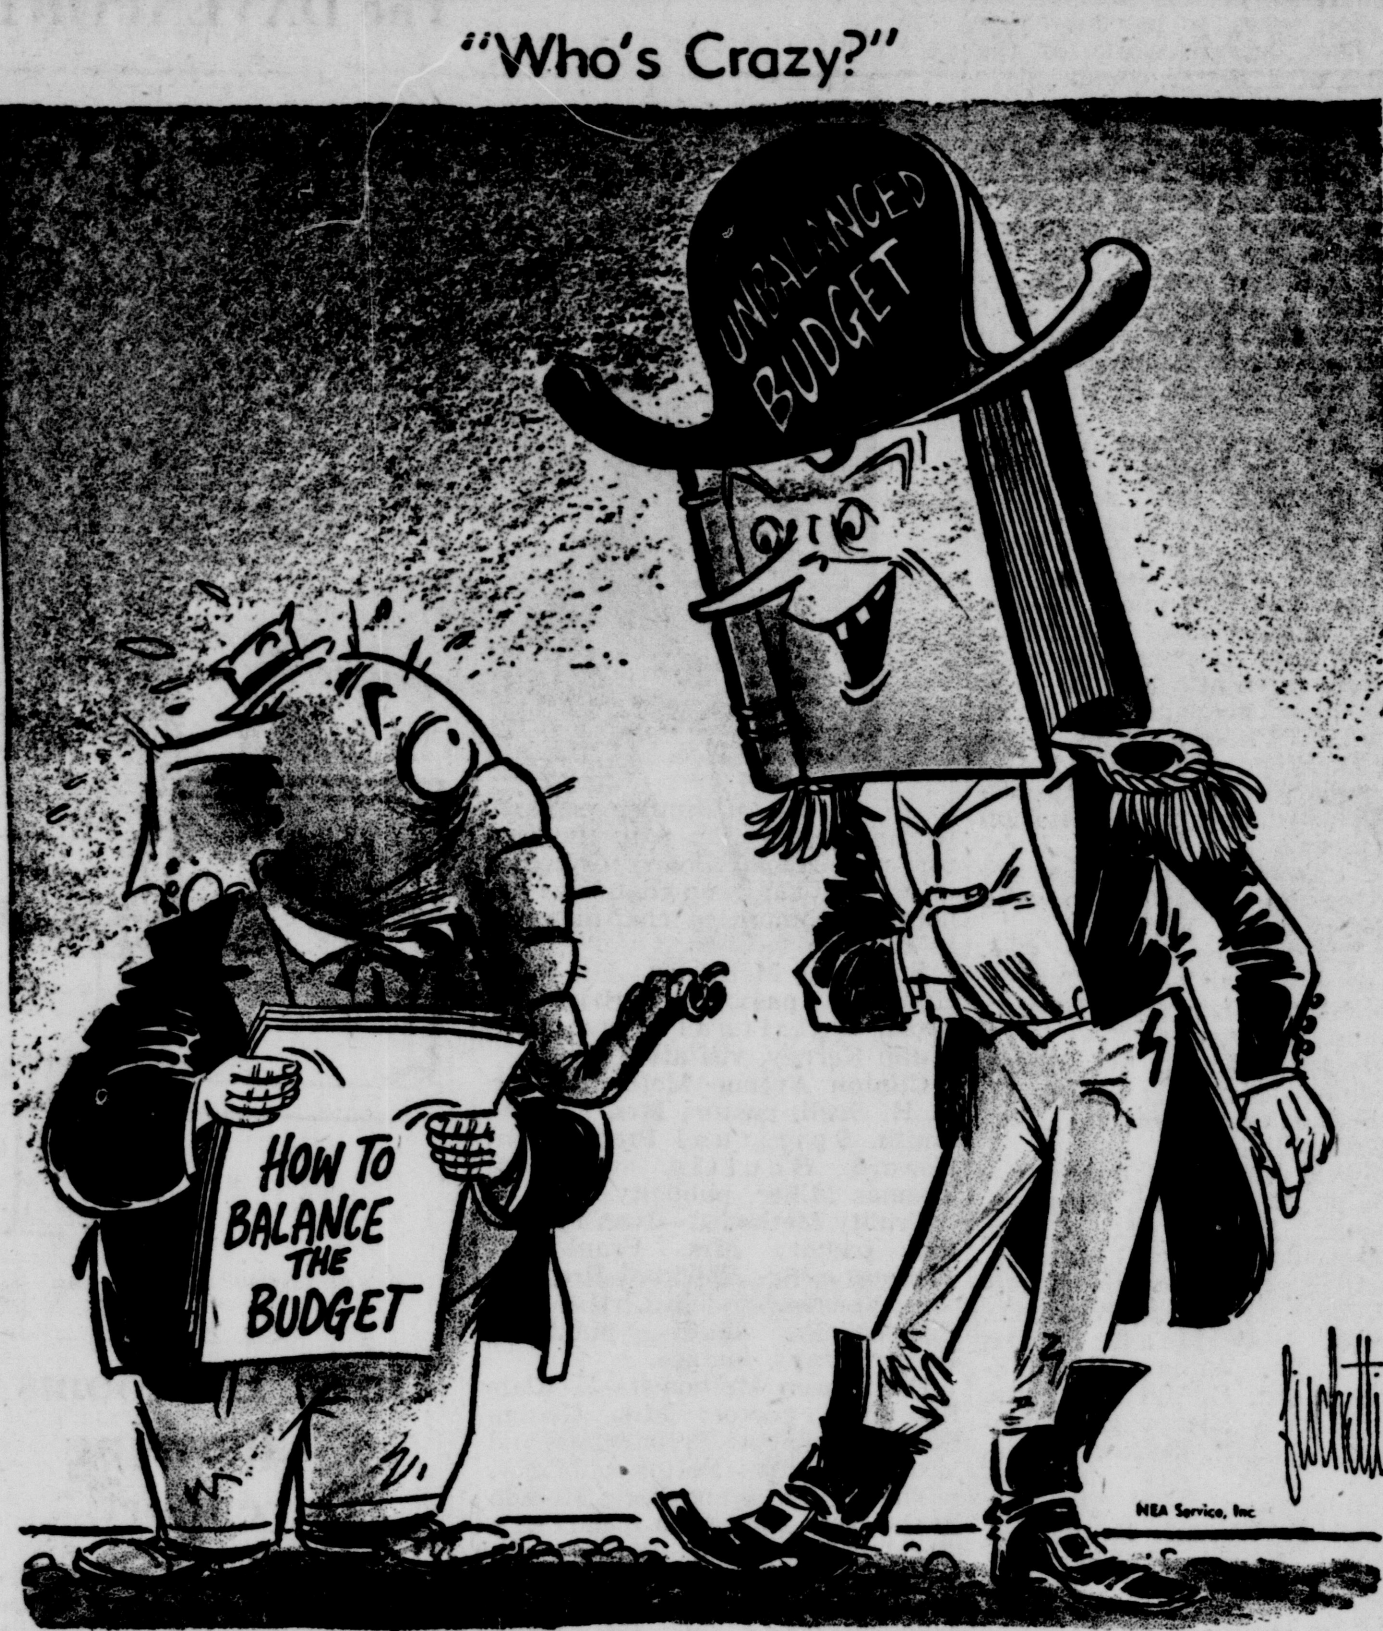

These physicians, after this long and studied trial of Banthine state, "These results have led to the conclusion that Banthine (methantheline bromide) is not more than a useful supplement to the standard or regular medical treatment of stomach and intestinal ulcer (peptic ulcer) and should not be given for more than three months at a time."

It is gratifying to know that while standard treatment may not cure ulcer, by the use of Banthine the physician has at hand a safe drug to give the patient relief from his symptoms of hunger and pain.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters' Union, who has opened a Washington headquarters to organize the unorganized workers of the East, delivered some prize quotes on the subject of Joey Fay, New York labor racketeer. He dropped them at a cocktail party which he gave for the Washington press corps.

"I wouldn't have hesitated to recommend to Governor Dewey that he consider a parole for Fay," Beck began. He said he couldn't find that he ever had recommended it, but he would have.

"The Teamsters' Union hires hundreds of ex-convicts every year," Beck went on. "What's the difference if a man is a banker or what he is? You can't put a man in the pen and then throw the key away. If a man conducts himself so that the warden recommends his parole, let him out."

"I don't think Fay committed any overt act. If (New York State Senator) Wicks went up to see him, none of the responsibility should be pinned on Fay. If Wicks said, 'I'll do what I can to help you out,' and a solution is obtained, that's all right. Labor should be charged with what it does, not what other people do. The warden is to blame if Fay had more visitors than the law allows."

"They had Whitney of the New York Stock Exchange locked up," Beck concluded. "I didn't, but I would have recommended him for parole."

War Claims Move
Increased interest in paying something extra to American soldiers and civilians who suffered hardships as prisoners of war of the Communists during the Korean fighting has been stirred up by Republican moves to get rid of the three Democratic members of the War Claims Commission. WCC is now authorized to provide compensation for only World War 2 victims. By law, WCC is supposed to go out of business by March 31, 1955.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine introduced a bill to continue the WCC for another three years in order to pay off claims from American POW's of the Korean campaign.

Civilians would be paid $60 a month, military personnel $150 a day. About 5000 American POW victims of the Communies, plus an undetermined number of survivors of those who died in captivity would be eligible for payment.

Senator Smith's bill would provide the money from the sale of German and Japanese assets seized during World War 2. This has been the source of funds for paying all World War 2 POW and civilian internee claims.

Brother Act
There's a brother act going on in the Joint Chiefs of Staff now. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, as Air Force Chief of Staff, sits in as a regular member.

On another side of the table he is sometimes faced by his younger brother, Maj. Gen. Merrill B. Twining of the Marine Corps, who is the Marines' Deputy Chief of Staff.

Whenever Marine Corps Commandant Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., is away from Washington, Marine General Twining sits in for him. The Marines are admitted to the JCS only in an advisory capacity to the Navy, however, and there is no Marine vote.

Gen. Nathan Twining, 56, was graduated from West Point in 1919. Gen. Merrill Twining, 51, was graduated from Annapolis in 1923.

McGill Radar Fence
The mysterious "McGill Fence," which has been mentioned somewhat vaguely in recent discussions of U. S.-Canadian continental defense plans, turns out to be not so super-secret after all. First reports indicated that it was some apparatus for automatic early warning of approaching enemy air raids.

The "Fence" is now described as more of a line of radar stations just above the northernmost Canadian railroad routes. The outposts were located so that they could be reached easily for servicing even in midwinter.

Russian Whopper
Soviet Russia's international radio propaganda service has added another whopper to its long list of "firsts" by claiming that three-dimensional movies were really invented by a Russian. The claim was made in an English broadcast which said the 3-D apparatus was first designed by a Russian named Ivanov in 1941.

Actually, 3-Ds film were known in Hollywood 30 years ago, but never used till TV competition forced their adoption.

Letters to The Editor

Letters to the Editor must bear the name of the writer. Communications must be limited to 300 words. Free and personal attacks upon individuals are not accepted. Only original communications addressed to The Freeman will be printed.

Editor, The Freeman:

To clarify the atmosphere in regards to the request for the resignation of committeemen of the Third District of the Town of Rochester, the reason for this action was this, six years ago Oliver Gray, one of the committeemen concerned, was a candidate for Superintendent of Highways at the regular Republican caucus opposing Jacob DeWitt. Mr. Gray was the successful candidate winning the nomination by a small majority. He was also successful in the election and held the office of Superintendent of Highways for four years.

At the next regular caucus Mr. Gray's name was again presented, also the name of Friend Sheldon. At this caucus Friend Sheldon was the successful candidate and was elected at the next general election.

At the Republican Caucus this year Oliver Gray did not have his name presented but instead floated a petition to name him on the independent ticket and also had his name presented to the Democratic Caucus winning the nomination over Ira Devo, a lifelong Democrat. So it did not seem to the best interest of the Republican Party having him serving as a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

I was chairman of both these Republican caucuses and I saw no underhanded work going on as was stated in a previous publication.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 31, 1953

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Next Tuesday the voters of the City of Kingston will be called upon to elect the administrative heads of the city government for the next two years. This has been an unusually quiet local election, however, during this week the candidates and some issues have been discussed giving the voters an opportunity to consider them.

The Republican Party realizing the importance of electing to office men who are fitted to occupy the positions to which they aspire has placed in the field two very capable candidates to conduct the business of the city. Frederick H. Stang, the Republican candidate for mayor, is eminently qualified for the important office of mayor. He is familiar with municipal administration, having been clerk of the Board of Supervisors and county attorney of Ulster County for many years. With this background of knowledge and experience, he will be able to administer the city's business on an efficient and economical basis.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly, who seeks reelection on the Republican ticket, is well known to all residents of the city. He has earned the reputation of presiding over Common Council sessions fairly and impartially, extending the privilege of the floor to everyone seeking to be heard on governmental matters. As Acting Mayor, Kelly has served efficiently in the absence of Mayor Newkirk and devoted a large portion of his time to city business. A very popular candidate and office holder, he should be returned to office with a large plurality.

In the wards of the city aldermen also will be elected. The Common Council is an important municipal body and the best qualified candidates should be elected to it. The Republican Party has chosen men who will give the city good representation in that body.

Supervisors also are to be elected this year. Under Republican control and responsibility for a number of years, the county has had efficient administration. To continue efficiency in government, the candidates on the Republican ticket in the various wards of this city should be returned to office.

LOWERING THE BARS

The New York Yankees will try out two Negro players. This creates another opening for talented Negroes. Heretofore the Yankees have drawn the color line, though the other two city teams, the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, have played Negroes for years. Indeed it was the Dodgers, when Branch Rickey directed operations, who in 1947 signed the first Negro in big league history, Jackie Robinson.

Some other big league teams still discriminate, among them the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators. The Yankees, however, being the foremost team in the game, have presented the greatest obstacle to drawing the color line.

Negro fans will rejoice at the new move. Their pleasure will not be shared by the other teams in the league. For five years, without using Negro talent, the Yankees have been unbeatable. What chance is there for their rivals now that the champions can draw on a hitherto untapped source of strength?

TRAFFIC SIGNS

"Stop!" This word in traffic signs has the merit of being clear, but, like other good things, it can be overdone. New York City is substituting the sign "Yield Right of Way" at intersections where it is not necessary for the driver to come to a full stop if he watches what is coming on the other street. The idea originated in Tulsa, Okla., and has also been tried in Providence, R. I.

The language of signs has not been thoroughly worked out. Some are more comprehensible than others. Some include wording not easily understood. Certain cities call main roads "arterial highways," others "boulevards." In one midwestern state signs in the country often read "Soft Shoulders," which should mean something to most people.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHAT IS REALITY?

One of the inevitable effects of the existence of the devastating hydrogen bomb is that thoughtful human beings are wondering about the world they live in and its future. When the atom bomb appalled our consciousness, we realized that we had reached an age of destructiveness that was, for the moment, beyond our imagination. Now we know that more effective means of destruction are at hand and that greater means will be evolved. There are no limits to these deadly powers.

The scientists themselves are frightened by their offspring. The more they know, the more frightened they are. Alexis Carrel, one of the most brilliant minds of our age, left a posthumous book, "Reflections on Life," in which he has this to say:

"Man has only grasped one aspect of reality. He has plucked the forbidden fruit from the tree of knowledge before it was ripe. It gave us the knowledge of all things save ourselves."

Then he says:
"... One essential law for the development of living beings is that of effort. Muscles, vital organs, intelligence and will can only be strengthened by work. No error can be more fatal than that of suppressing the voluntary effort of mind and muscle and the involuntary one of the adaptive systems. Our ancestral laws of conduct were the expression of a profound intuition of human nature. Christian morality also imposes rules which are none other than those intended by life itself. Life has replied to our disobedience to its laws by estranging itself from us; a reply at once silent and brutal. Only the most clear-sighted have been aware of the danger."

The degeneration of the race is universal because lack of self-discipline is universal. The enforced discipline of the totalitarian state or the enslavement exercised by the Communists are not substitutes for self-discipline. Strong nations base themselves not on the exercise of power over each individual but depend upon the strength that comes from the morality of its citizens living within the social disciplines of the family.

Patriotism is self-respect. When self-respect degenerates, the family loses its primary purpose, which is self-discipline within an intimate group; after that, love of country is dissipated into the elevation of private whim above the common good.

An ugly example of this is the shamelessness of those who spy upon their own country in the interests of its foes. Thousands of young men and women, some Marxists, some not, some only willful people, have joined in a conspiracy against what normal human beings always love. The Rosenbergs went to their deaths without explaining why they did so much harm to their country.

The Rosenbergs are only two of a horde of spies and saboteurs who have invaded almost all phases of American life. Harry Truman's rejection of Senator Jenner's sentiment that the atom bomb has invaded every phase of American life is not astonishing. Harry Truman called the accusations of Alger Hiss a "red herring." He tolerated Harry Dexter White. He protected Owen Lattimore, who is now under indictment in a case of perjury.

Does this mean that Harry Truman preferred Communists, spies, fellow travelers or dupes? It does not. Harry Truman's reaction is normal among Americans who fear reality and run from it. Americans live in the memory of a good world when a man's word was his bond and when a handshake on a deal made it final. It was a moral world in which men were ashamed of wrongdoing because they were sure about right and wrong. Realistically, the world is no longer ours. Just as the existence of the atom and hydrogen bombs must affect our thinking on many phases of life, so the impact of Marxism affects our morals. Just as in economics, Gresham's Law prevails that bad money drives out good money, so in morals, the acceptance of wickedness as a possible way of life drives the Ten Commandments, the revealed law of God, from our way of life.

We are our people ready to accept reality, they would solve many of their problems. Their nature would quickly toughen because they accepted reality. It is their unwillingness to believe the truth, to recognize their own errors, their errors of education, of the upbringing of their children, of their obligations as citizens, that aids the degenerative characteristics of our era.

Carrel grasped the essential flaw of the age in which he lived and died.

That Body of Yours

RELIEF IN STOMACH AND PEPTIC ULCER

Physicians tell us that over 75 per cent of their patients consult them because they are in pain and wish speedy relief.

Two of the commonest ailments of mankind are arthritis and stomach ulcer and, fortunately, physicians have drugs that can give relief. In the case of arthritis, the two new wonder drugs, cortisone and ACTH give relief, and for stomach ulcer any food or the old-fashioned baking soda give relief from pain.

A new drug for relief of pain of stomach ulcer that is receiving much publicity is Banthine, a patient being able to get relief in a very short time.

However, your physician will tell you that the patient wants relief from his pain immediately, this quick relief often masks or hides the cause of the pain and it may take some time and investigation to find what is the underlying cause or causes of the symptoms.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Paul Beechgard, Denmark, and his colleagues report the effect of the drug Banthine in the treatment of 34 patients, 29 with stomach ulcer and 5 with duodenal ulcer (first part of the small intestine into which the stomach empties its contents). Their symptoms lasted at least two years and all of them had already had at least one course of treatment without becoming free of their symptoms. In fact, they were considered ready for operation as a last resort. With a dose of 50 mg. of Banthine four times daily, freedom from pain was soon achieved, notably freedom from both hunger and pain. After three months, two-thirds of these patients were free from pain and one-third showed healing of the ulcer by radiium. But after a year only one-third were still free from pain and only one-fifth showed healing by radiium. During the same year, 10 of the 34 were operated on.

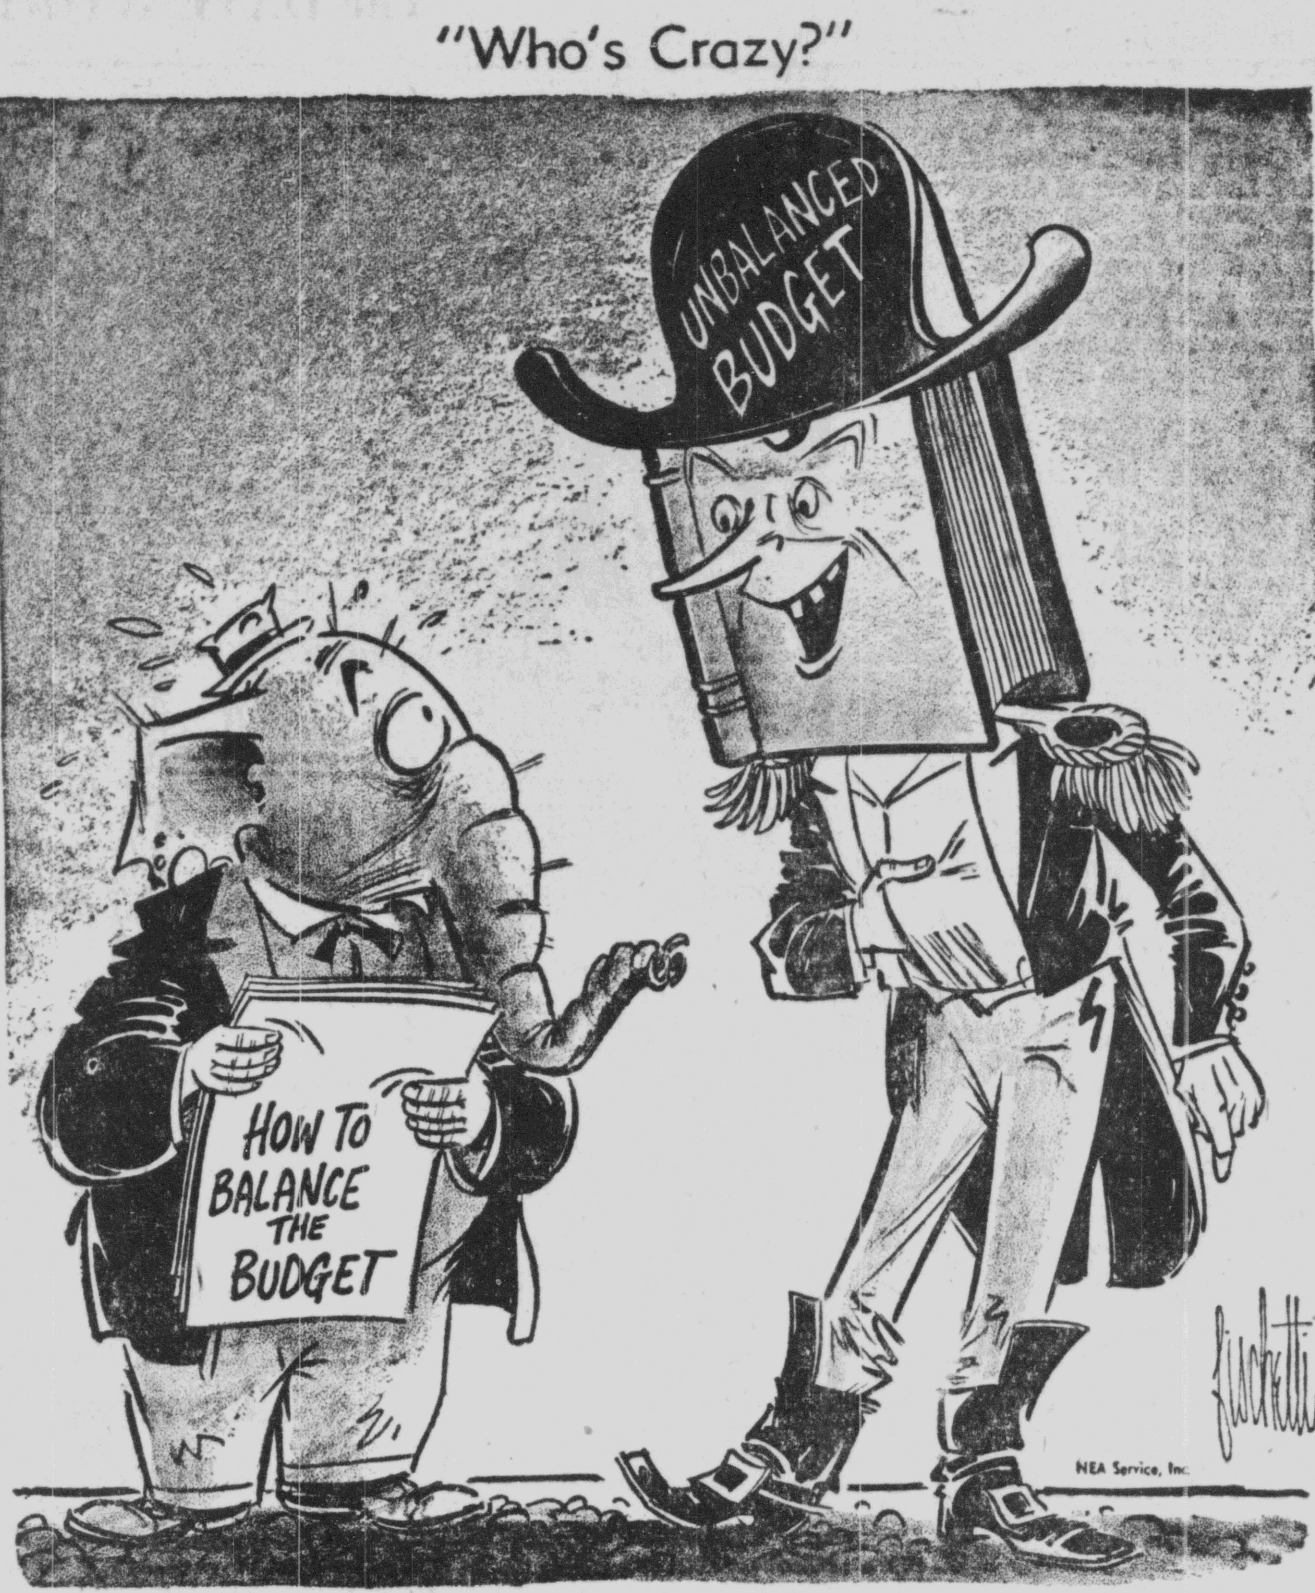

What do we learn from the Banthine treatment of stomach and intestinal ulcer?
These physicians, after this long and studied trial of Banthine, state, "These results have led to the conclusion that Banthine (methantheline bromide) is not more than a useful supplement to the standard or regular medical treatment of stomach and intestinal ulcer (peptic ulcer) and should not be given for more than three months at a time."

It is gratifying to know that while standard treatment may not cure ulcer, by the use of Banthine the physician has at hand a safe drug to give the patient relief from his symptoms of hunger and pain.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA) — Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters' Union, who has opened a Washington headquarters to organize the unorganized workers of the East, delivered some prize quotes on the subject of Joey Fay, New York labor racketeer. He dropped them at a cocktail party which he gave for the Washington press corps.

"I wouldn't have hesitated to recommend to Governor Dewey that he consider a parole for Fay," Beck began. He said he couldn't find that he ever had recommended it, but he would have.

"The Teamsters' Union hires hundreds of ex-convicts every year," Beck went on. "What's the difference if a man is a bank robber or what he is? You can't put a man in the pen and then throw the key away. If a man conducts himself so that the warden recommends his parole, let him out."

"I don't think Fay committed any overt act. If (New York State Senator) Wicks went up to see him, none of the responsibility should be pinned on Fay. If Wicks said, 'I'll do what I can to help you out,' and a solution is obtained, that's all right. Labor should be charged with what it does, not what other people do. The warden is to blame if Fay had more visitors than the law allows."

"They had Whitney of the New York Stock Exchange locked up," Beck concluded. "I didn't, but I would have recommended him for parole."

War Claims Move

Increased interest in paying something extra to American soldiers and civilians who suffered hardships as prisoners of war of the Communists during the Korean fighting has been stirred up by Republican moves to get rid of the three Democratic members of the War Claims Commission. WCC is now authorized to provide compensation for only World War 2 victims. By law, WCC is supposed to go out of business by March 31, 1955.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine introduced a bill to continue the WCC for another three years in order to pay off claims from American POW's of the Korean campaign.

Civilians would be paid $60 a month, military personnel $150 a day. About 5000 American POW victims of the Communies, plus an undetermined number of survivors of those who died in captivity would be eligible for payment.

Senator Smith's bill would provide the money from the sale of German and Japanese assets seized during World War 2. This has been the source of funds for paying all World War 2 POW and civilian internec claims.

Brother Act

There's a brother act going on in the Joint Chiefs of Staff now. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, as Air Force Chief of Staff, sits in as a regular member.

On another side of the table he is sometimes faced by his younger brother, Maj.-Gen. Merrill B. Twining of the Marine Corps, who is the Marines' Deputy Chief of Staff.

Whenever Marine Corps Commandant Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., is away from Washington, Marine General Twining sits in for him. The Marines are admitted to the JCS only in an advisory capacity to the Navy, however, and there is no Marine vote.

Gen. Nathan Twining, 56, was graduated from West Point in 1919. Gen. Merrill Twining, 51, was graduated from Annapolis in 1923.

McGill Radar Fence

The mysterious "McGill Fence," which has been mentioned somewhat vaguely in recent discussions of U. S.-Canadian continental defense plans, turns out to be not so super-secret after all. First reports indicated that it was some Canadian scientists' new apparatus for automatic early warning of approaching enemy air raids.

The "Fence" is now described as more of a line of radar stations just above the northernmost Canadian railroad routes. The outposts were located so that they could be reached easily for servicing even in winter.

Russian Whopper

Soviet Russia's international radio propaganda service has added another whopper to its long list of "firsts" by claiming that three-dimensional movies were really invented by a Russian. The claim was made in an English broadcast which said the 3-D apparatus was first designed by a Russian named Ivanov in 1941.

Actually, 3-Ds film were known in Hollywood 30 years ago, but never used till TV competition forced their adoption.

Oct. 30, 1953
Editor, The Freeman:

To clarify the atmosphere in regards to the request for the resignation of committeemen of the Third District of the Town of Rochester, the reason for this action was this, six years ago Oliver Gray, one of the committeemen concerned, was a candidate for Superintendent of Highways at the regular Republican Caucus opposing Jacob DeWitt. Mr. Gray was the successful candidate winning the nomination by a small majority. He was also successful in the election and held the office of Superintendent of Highways for the Town of Rochester for four years.

At the next regular caucus Mr. Gray's name was again presented, also the name of Friend Sheldon. At this caucus Friend Sheldon was the successful candidate and was elected at the next general election.

At the Republican Caucus this year Oliver Gray did not have his name presented but instead floated a petition to name him on the Independent ticket and also had his name presented to the Democratic Caucus winning the nomination over Ira Deyo, a lifelong Democrat. So it did not seem to the best interest of the Republican Party having him serving as a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

I was chairman of both these Republican caucuses and I saw no underhanded work going on as was stated in a previous publication.

Would Stop Thruway Work

Suffern, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Suffern Village Board of Trustees voted yesterday to seek an injunction to halt construction of the New York State Thruway in the vicinity of the village water supply. Thruway Authority plans call for the course of the Ramapo river to be changed in construction of an intersection of Route 17 and the Thruway at Suffern. The village trustees have protested that the new bed of the river will lie over an important reserve well in the local water supply. The board said the well involved had become even more important because a huge automobile assembly plant is being constructed nearby.

Mother, Child Hurt

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Mrs. Pearl Morris, 32, and her daughter, Elaine, of Mount Vernon, suffered severe injuries last night when the automobile in which they were passengers struck an elevated railway pillar at 219th street, police reported. They were taken to Jewish Memorial Hospital where Mrs. Morris was treated for possible internal injuries and concussion, and the child for a fracture of the right leg. The driver, police said, was Charles R. Morris, husband of Mrs. Morris and father of Elaine.

Sees High TV Color Cops

Troy, Oct. 31 (AP)—Allen B. Du Mont, a television pioneer predicts that high costs will act as a brake on widespread use of color TV in American homes. Du Mont, president and founder of Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories Inc., said yesterday he foresaw no "immediate widespread swing to color television." He said color receivers would be produced quickly if new standards were approved, but the initial cost of a set would be about $1,000. The price could be cut in half within two or three years, he estimated, but this still would be "a high price for mass usage and purchase."

Bogus Doctor Gets 3 Years Following 8-State Practice

Cincinnati, Oct. 31 (AP)—A 30-year-old ex-army private who duped doctors and hospitals in eight states with his pose as an experienced physician will serve the next three years in jail.

His fantastic story unfolded yesterday after he pleaded guilty in Federal District Court to charges of misrepresenting himself as a doctor to army officials.

He is Harold K. Rain, who used the name of Dr. Samuel P. Hall in performing scores of operations. The Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested him Sept. 9 after he asked a magazine editor if the publication would be interested in buying the story of the masquerade.

Rain said he went to the University of Chicago as a pre-medical student. He attended lectures, too, at the University of Illinois School of Medicine and Cook County Hospital. His claims could not be verified.

Performed Major Surgery
After his "training," a medical placement agency referred him to the Inland Lime & Stone Co., of Manistee, Mich., as company doctor.

From there he went to Mississippi, Arkansas and St. Louis, Mo., where he worked in a sanatorium for four months.

He became a resident physician at Camden-Clark Hospital in 1949 at Parkersburg, W. Va. Here he performed his first major surgery unassisted. Here too he married a nurse.

They had three children. The couple was divorced and he remarried the day after the decree.

Acquired Reputation
From West Virginia, Rain moved to Ravenna, O. He was resident physician at Portage County Hospital from October 1947 to July 1948. On the move once more, he went to a clinic at Stephenville, Tex. Here he acquired a reputation as a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

But the State Medical Board caught up with him and fined him $50 for practicing without a license.

Undaunted, the dark haired and scholarly looking Rain asked an ex-patient for a position as company physician in San Antonio, Tex.

Army Job Started Trouble
"Dr. Hall" then applied to the army at Fort Sam Houston and got accepted as a contract physician. This was the job that got him into difficulties with the federal authorities.

But the law had not caught up with him yet. He became a staff member of the Olney, Ill., Sanatorium Clinic at $1,000 a month. An operation there on Mrs. Alberta Gross was "close to fatal," said Judge John H. Druehl.

When he was arrested in Cincinnati, Rain explained his bizarre career by saying his mother's dying wish was that he become a doctor.

However, the court was told his mother was still living.

John Pulvirenti of Port Ewen, proprietor of Tropical Inn, who fired a shot at Richard Mikulka of Rhinebeck when Pulvirenti believed Mikulka was trying to enter the place recently, was exonerated. Mikulka received superficial wounds from the shots.

There were four open indictments filed and eight sealed, but all were transferred to county court by Justice Taylor on motion of District Attorney St. John. The defendants named in the open and sealed indictments will be arraigned later in county court.

Members of the grand jury were excused until December 7, at 11 a. m., but will not have to report at that time unless notified to do so. The law requires that a grand jury be held until the next grand jury is summoned so that in an emergency a grand jury is always in session and ready for work.

Justice Taylor thanked the jurors for their services, which in many cases, he said, had been at inconvenience to the jurors.

Relations commencing Sheriff Cluett Schantz and his staff, District Attorney St. John and Assistant James Abernethy and the grand jury stenographer was filed. The resolution commented on the cleanliness of the jail, recommended a new refrigerator and freezer be installed in the jail kitchens and also recommended rest room facilities be provided on the third floor of the court house for grand jury use.

Justice Taylor directed bail in the three cases where no bill of indictment had been found be exonerated.

Milk Strike Ends

urging other persons not to sign offered union contracts.

Scramble for Milk
New York householders turned largely to evaporated and powdered milk during the strike, but some lined up for rations at a few plants which had reserves on hand. Other New Yorkers journeyed to Connecticut and upstate New York.

Hospitals and schools continued to receive fluid milk supplies.

About 50,000 dairy farmers in several northeastern states were suffering losses estimated at $250,000 a day—the difference between the price they would have been paid for fluid milk and the price they are getting for diverting their milk to cheese and other dairy products. Some farmers dumped their supplies.

UN used germ warfare weapons in Korea. The Reds have made much of "confessions" they got from some airmen that this was so.

When the Pentagon exhibited the films of the five airmen who refused to "confess," a narrator-interrogator made a point of saying:

"In spite of pressures brought to bear, these men, like many, many others refused to succumb to pressure."

Another man who refused to succumb to pressure while a prisoner of the Reds, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, told his story in person yesterday at a National Press Club luncheon in his honor.

Dean, held captive more than three years, disclosed he once planned to commit suicide rather than give in to brutality and reveal military secrets he knew. But when his suicide plan failed, he said, the Communists treated him more leniently.

have to go, sometimes with hat in hand, to some unscrupulous labor leader to keep labor peace....but it's being done every day on the local level and even on the national level and by business leaders no less than political leaders. Our Presidents have been known to use their influence in this respect and there have been instances of the same all down the line. We could go further than that and say that our highest leaders have on occasion, either personally or by their representatives, gone to labor leaders of at least questionable repute to enlist their political support. That's even worse. We've no evidence that Governor Dewey ever did this, but it's almost unbelievable that in the course of his political career in New York state representatives of his party have not done so often in his behalf.

Precedent Established
So the precedent for asking the influence of labor leaders, even those whose reputations are not so good, is quite well established. The only difference in the Wicks case is that this labor leader was locked up in Sing Sing and that's where he had to go to see him. But...while countless important people were asking the State Parole Board for clemency for Joe Fay, Senator Wicks was not one of them. There isn't a single thing in the record to show that Wicks did anything for Fay in spite of these personal conferences. If he had added his weight to the determined effort of a lot of people to nudge Fay loose from prison or had shown any other favoritism for the labor leader, there might be something really to condemn him for. But the record shows absolutely nothing of the sort.

And still Senator Wicks has been asked by Governor Dewey to give up the fruits of a lifetime of political labor because of a single act which may have been ill advised, but which certainly shows no sinister or criminal implications of any sort. Some very important Republican big-wigs have been found to be heavy stockholders in the harness racing tracks, about which all this controversy rages, yet the Governor hasn't asked them to step down. The Assistant Secretary of the Senate is one of the top men at the track out at Batavia Downs and another top Senate leader turned out to be counsel for that track out West, which is no crime of course, but the Senator thought it important enough to resign from the post this week, as he put it, to avoid any question. The Republican party as a matter of fact has as its candidate for Governor of New Jersey a man who did write the Parole Board and urge a parole for Joe Fay. Which isn't illegal either and we cite these cases only to show how comparatively minor was Senator Wicks' lapse, if it was one, compared to others.

Politics a Demanding Game
Well, those were our thoughts as we pondered the Wicks case. As we've said before it's an issue every citizen must decide for himself. Certainly it's desirable that our public officials be above reproach and even, like Caesar's wife, beyond suspicion. But politics is a demanding game and it's hard in a lifetime of political activity not to make some mistakes and, from time to time, not to find oneself in doubtful company. And that goes for Presidents and Governors and Senators and what have you.

The ultimate test is whether they succumb to those influences that are all around them and the record in the Wicks case says clearly as of now that he did not.

Executives Take to Air
St. Louis, Oct. 31 (AP)—An excellent safety record in business flying, on the increase in recent years, is bringing "more and more executives into the flying field, Civil Aeronautics Administrator Frederick B. Lee said last night. Lee, speaking to the closing session of the National Business Aircraft Association convention, recommended more education, however, to increase safety in the field. He said hours flown on company and individual business increased 6 per cent in 1952 over figures of the previous year compared to a large decline in instructional and pleasure flights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren in mind when he refers to a "Mr. X"—a national figure who supposedly urged a pay role for labor extortionist Joyce Fay. Concerning speculation that U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., might be Wagner's "Mr. X," the Democratic mayoral candidate says: "I don't know. Maybe he is. I don't know." These were Wagner's comments yesterday when he and other candidates were quizzed by newsmen at a convention of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Bogus Doctor Gets 3 Years Following 8-State Practice

Cincinnati, Oct. 31 (AP)—A 30-year-old ex-army private who duped doctors and hospitals in eight states with his pose as an experienced physician will serve the next three years in jail.

His fantastic story unfolded yesterday after he pleaded guilty in Federal District Court to charges of misrepresenting himself as a doctor to army officials.

He is Harold K. Rain, who used the name of Dr. Samuel P. Hall in performing scores of operations. The Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested him Sept. 9 after he asked a magazine editor if the publication would be interested in buying the story of the masquerade.

Rain said he went to the University of Chicago as a pre-medical student. He attended lectures, too, at the University of Illinois School of Medicine and Cook County Hospital. His claims could not be verified.

Performed Major Surgery

After his "training," a medical placement agency referred him to the Inland Lime & Stone Co., of Manistee, Mich., as company doctor.

From there he went to Mississippi, Arkansas and St. Louis, Mo., where he worked in a sanatorium for four months.

He became a resident physician at Camden-Clark Hospital in 1949 at Parkersburg, W. Va. Here he performed his first major surgery unassisted. Here too he married a nurse.

They had three children. The couple was divorced and he remarried the day after the decree.

Acquired Reputation

From West Virginia, Rain moved to Ravenna, O. He was resident physician at Portage County Hospital from October 1947 to July 1948. On the move once more, he went to a clinic at Stephenville, Tex. Here he acquired a reputation as a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

But the State Medical Board caught up with him and fined him $50 for practicing without a license.

Undaunted, the dark haired and scholarly looking Rain asked an ex-patient for a position as company physician in San Antonio, Tex.

Army Job Started Trouble

"Dr. Hall" then applied to the army at Fort Sam Houston and got accepted as a contract physician. This was the job that got him into difficulties with the federal authorities.

But the law had not caught up with him yet. He became a staff member of the Olney, Ill., Sanatorium Clinic at $1,000 a month. An operation there on Mrs. Alberta Gross was "close to fatal," said Judge John H. Druffel.

When he was arrested in Cincinnati, Rain explained his bizarre career by saying his mother's dying wish was that he become a doctor.

However, the court was told his mother was still living.

May Select Routes

Albany, Oct. 31 (AP)—Starting Monday, state examiners will have a choice of routes over which to test applicants for drivers' permits. Under the new procedure, Commissioner James R. Macduff of the Motor Vehicle Bureau said today, candidates for licenses no longer will be able to practice over the route they know will be used for the test. Since 1928, all examinations have been conducted over fixed routes established by motor vehicle districts.

There were four open indictments filed and eight sealed but all were transferred to county court by Justice Taylor on motion of District Attorney St. John. The defendants named in the open and sealed indictments will be arraigned later in county court.

Members of the grand jury were excused until December 7, at 11 a. m., but will not have to report at that time unless notified to do so. The law requires that a grand jury be held until the next grand jury is summoned so that in an emergency a grand jury is always in session and ready for work.

Justice Taylor thanked the jurors for their services, which in many cases, he said, had been at inconvenience to the jurors.

A resolution commending Sheriff Cluett Schantz and his staff, District Attorney St. John and Assistant James Abernethy and the grand jury stenographer was filed. The resolution commented on the cleanliness of the jail, recommended a new refrigerator and freezer be installed in the jail kitchen and also recommended rest room facilities be provided on the third floor of the court house for grand jury use.

Justice Taylor directed bail in the three cases where no bill of indictment had been found be exonerated.

Milk Strike Ends

urging other persons not to sign offered union contracts.

Scramble for Milk

New York householders turned largely to evaporated and powdered milk during the strike, but some lined up for rations at a few plants which had reserves on hand. Other New Yorkers journeyed to Connecticut and upstate New York.

Hospitals and schools continued to receive fluid milk supplies.

About 50,000 dairy farmers in several northeastern states were suffering losses estimated at $250,000 a day—the difference between the price they would have been paid for fluid milk and the price they are getting for diverting their milk to cheese and other dairy products. Some farmers dumped their supplies.

UN used germ warfare weapons in Korea. The Reds have made much of "confessions" they got from some American that this was so.

When the Pentagon exhibited the films of the five airmen who refused to "confess," a narrator-interrogator made a point of saying:

"In spite of pressures brought to bear, these men, like many, many others refused to succumb to pressure."

Another man who refused to succumb to pressure while a prisoner of the Reds, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, told his story in person yesterday at a National Press Club luncheon in his honor.

Dean, held captive more than three years, disclosed he once planned to commit suicide rather than give in to brutality and reveal military secrets he knew. But when his suicide plan failed, he said, the Communists treated him more leniently.

Pavlak Captures

only minor cuts, Pavlak said. Implicate Another

The two suspects were then taken to the Catskill state police barracks, where they were questioned.

Pavlak said they implicated a third person whom they said was riding with them, but that authorities are of the opinion that that part of the story is "a fabrication."

Authorities are continuing to check that angle, however.

Troy Official

have to go, sometimes with hat in hand, to some unscrupulous labor leader to keep labor peace...but it's been done every day on the local level and even on the national level and by business leaders no less than political leaders. Our Presidents have been known to use their influence in this respect and there have been instances of the same all down the line. We could go further than that and say that our highest leaders have on occasion, either personally or by their representatives, gone to labor leaders of at least questionable repute to enlist their political support. That's even worse. We've no evidence that Governor Dewey ever did this, but it's almost unbelievable that in the course of his political career in New York state representatives of his party have not done so often in his behalf.

Precedent Established

So the precedent for asking the influence of labor leaders, even those whose reputations are not so good, is quite well established. The only difference in the Wicks case is that this labor leader was locked up in Sing Sing and that's where he had to go to see him. But...and this is all-important...while countless important people were asking the State Parole Board for clemency for Joe Fay, Senator Wicks was not one of them. There isn't a single thing in the record to show that Wicks did anything for Fay in spite of these personal conferences. If he had added his weight to the determined effort of a lot of people to nudge Fay loose from prison or had shown any other favoritism for the labor leader, there might be something really to condemn him for. But the record shows absolutely nothing of the sort.

And still Senator Wicks has been asked by Governor Dewey to give up the fruits of a lifetime of political labor because of these visits which may have been ill-advised, but which certainly show no sinister or criminal implications of any sort. Some very important Republican big-wigs have been found to be heavy stockholders in the harness racing tracks, about which all this controversy rages, yet the Governor hasn't asked them to step down. The Assistant Secretary of the Senate is one of the top men at the track out at Batavia Downs and another top Senate leader turned out to be counsel for that track out West, which is no crime of course, but the Senator thought it important enough to resign from the post this week, as he put it, to avoid any question. The Republican party as a matter of fact has as its candidate for Governor of New Jersey a man who did write the Parole Board and urge a parole for Joe Fay. Which isn't illegal either and we cite these cases only to show how comparatively minor was Senator Wicks' lapse, if it was one, compared to others.

Politics a Demanding Game

Well, those were our thoughts as we pondered the Wicks case. As we've said before it's an issue every citizen must decide for himself. Certainly it's desirable that our public officials be above reproach and even, like Caesar's wife, beyond suspicion. But politics is a demanding game and it's hard in a lifetime of political activity not to make some mistakes and, from time to time, not to find oneself in doubtful company. And that goes for Presidents and Governors and Senators and what have you.

The ultimate test is whether they succumb to those influences that are all around them and the record in the Wicks case says clearly as of now that he did not.

Executives Take to Air

St. Louis, Oct. 31 (AP)—An excellent safety record in business flying, on the increase in recent years, is bringing "more and more executives into the flying field," Civil Aeronautics Administrator Frederick B. Lee said last night.

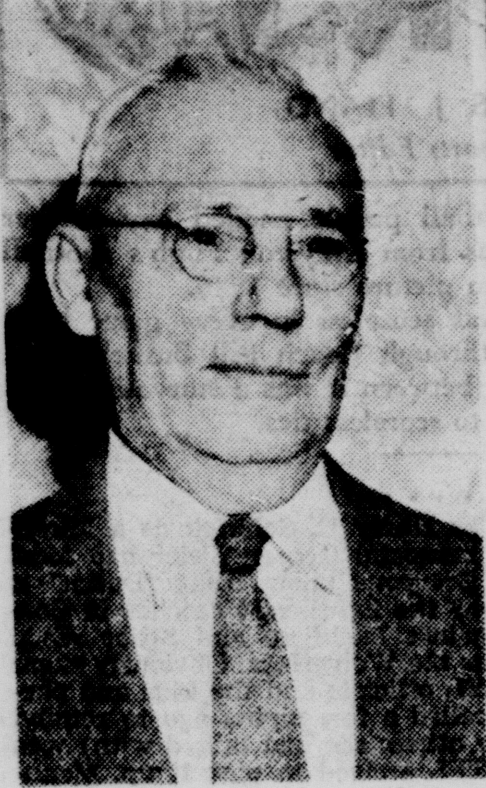

Lee, speaking to the closing session of the National Business Aircraft Association convention, recommended more education, however, to increase safety in the field. He said hours flown on company and individual business increased 6 per cent in 1952 over figures of the previous year compared to a large decline in instructional and pleasure flights.

Official of Bakery

ROBERT J. TORRENS, SR.

Robert J. Torrens, Sr. of Port Ewen is retiring today after 27 years of service as supervisor of Drake Bakeries.

Mr. Torrens began his career in the 1890's in Philadelphia, where he was associated with the William Friehof, Baking Company. From here, he moved to the Friehof Company in Trenton, N. J., then to Baltimore, Md. branch. With the experience he gained in this company, Mr. Torrens struck out on his own opening a bakery in Brooklyn in 1909.

He left the metropolitan area, moving to Port Ewen to retire in 1921. However, it wasn't too long before he returned to the business world associating with the Drake Bakeries in 1925.

This began his 27 years with the Drake company, during which he traveled throughout the Hudson Valley in his position as supervisor.

His plans for the future are vague at present.

Mr. Torrens heads a family tradition in the baking business. Miss Jessie Torrens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Torrens and Robert Torrens, Jr., son are employed by Drake Bakeries. A second son, Frank J. Torrens is in the allied trades, working for Bergly Materials, a baking supply firm.

Carrying the tradition into the younger generation is Frank J. Torrens, Jr., grandson of Robert Torrens, Sr., who is employed by Ekco, manufacturers of equipment for bakeries.

To celebrate the occasion, a dinner will be given Mr. Torrens tonight at 8 o'clock at Leher's. Guests will be present from the Drake Bakery in this area as well as from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Monticello, Hudson, Albany and Brooklyn. Malcolm D. Arrangements will be made to have their contributions accepted immediately. Campaign workers who have not yet reported are asked by the committee to bring in their tallies as soon as possible, so that final clean-up squads can carry through before the deadline, Monday, Nov. 2.

for YOU!

The Lord, and our customers have been good to us this past year. Our Harvest — in satisfied customers — has been most gratifying and encouraging.

My wife, Doris, and I, are fully aware that without the "good will" of our many customers, our friends, it would have been impossible for us to expand to six times our original size in such a short time. We have made arrangements with a "Turkey Raising" friend of ours. He is preparing to deliver us a limited number of freshly killed birds, dressed, and "ready for the table," averaging ten pounds each. We want to "give these birds away" with every purchase of one hundred dollars or more, until and including Nov. 12th. Turkeys will be available to you at least two days before Thanksgiving.

Maybe you won't need this gift for yourself—maybe you don't care for turkey—then with this season of good will at hand—be a good neighbor to some needy family—give them your turkey with your compliments.

We appreciate, deeply, all the help you folks have given us in advising your friends of the better values you have received here, therefore, with the pleasant season of Thanksgiving at hand, we offer you, again, our heartfelt thanks for the successful year you have given us.

Reception to Honor
Official of Bakery

ROBERT J. TORRENS, SR.

Robert J. Torrens, Sr. of Port Ewen is retiring today after 27 years of service as supervisor of Drake Bakeries.

Mr. Torrens began his career in the 1890's in Philadelphia, where he was associated with the William Friehof, Baking Company. From here, he moved to the Friehof Company in Trenton, N. J., then to Baltimore, Md. branch. With the experience he gained in this company, Mr. Torrens struck out on his own opening a bakery in Brooklyn in 1939.

He left the metropolitan area, moving to Port Ewen to retire in 1921. However, it wasn't too long before he returned to the business world associating with the Drake Bakeries in 1926.

This began his 27 years with the Drake company, during which he traveled throughout the Hudson Valley in his position as supervisor.

His plans for the future are vague at present.

Mr. Torrens heads a family tradition in the baking business. Miss Jessie Torrens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Torrens and Robert Torrens, Jr., son of Mr. Torrens, are employed by Drake Bakeries. A second son, Frank J. Torrens is in the allied trades, working for Bergy Materials, a baking supply firm.

Carrying the tradition into the younger generation is Frank J. Torrens, Jr., grandson of Robert Torrens, Sr., who is employed by Elco, manufacturers of equipment for bakeries.

To celebrate the occasion, a dinner will be given Mr. Torrens tonight at 8 o'clock at Leher's. Guests will be present from the Drake Bakery in this area as well as from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Monticello, Hudson, Albany and Brooklyn. Malcolm D. Ward, general manager of the Brooklyn bakery, will attend the event honoring Mr. Torrens for his long and faithful service.

YWCA Gives Report On Annual Fund Drive

To date, only $2,500 of a much-needed goal of $10,000 has been reported thus far in the YWCA's annual drive for funds.

"A constructive, well-balanced program for youth cannot be achieved by any organization without the necessary funds," Mrs. Fred R. Port said in an interview today. "With the general concern today about the activities and aims of youth, we at the YWCA are certain that the people of Kingston are anxious to do their utmost to help in every way possible. We urge all those who feel a responsibility for the future leaders of tomorrow to support the YWCA now in its campaign for funds. Help youth to grow."

All those who have not been approached as yet in the YWCA drive and would like to contribute in this way to a greater America are asked to call the YWCA at 1911.

Arrangements will be made to have their contributions accepted immediately. Campaign workers who have not yet reported are asked by the committee to bring in their tallies as soon as possible, so that final clean-up squads can carry through before the deadline, Monday, Nov. 2.

Monticello Harriers Capture DUSO Cross Country Championship

Schwartz Cracks Course Record In 11:22 Timing

Scores Surprise Win Over MHS McClelland

Lenny Schwartz broke the Monticello cross country course record as the Monties swept to the DUSO championship yesterday in quadrangular competition with Middletown, Newburgh and Kingston.

The mountain town thinned surprised the experts by outdistancing Middletown's highly regarded Gene McClelland by nine seconds.

Schwartz was clocked in 11:22, four seconds faster than the course record set several years ago by Monticello's Dick King, as the Monties finished with 36 points.

Kingston High, with a fourth place by John Browne (11:40) scored a 26-29, followed by Middletown with 50 and Newburgh Academy 87. Poughkeepsie High was not represented.

With NFA's Franklin Russell bedded with a virus attack, the race was expected to be a cinch for the Middies' McClelland but Schwartz grabbed an early lead yesterday and held it all the way.

The DUSO harriers next turn their attention to the Section 9 meet next Saturday at Bear Mountain. A week later they compete in the New York State championships.

JVs Trip Arlington

With Robert Coaling leading the pack, the KHS Jayvees harriers scored a 26-29 decision over Arlington JVs this week.

NFA-Port In 6-6 Tie

Two of the DUSO's winless football teams are still in the same boat.

Newburgh Academy and Port Jervis struggled through four furious quarters to 6-6 stalemate last night at the Red and Black gridiron.

Poughkeepsie High was expected to put the crusher on Middletown High today.

The Goldbacks marched 54 yards to score in the first period after receiving a Port Jervis punt. Don Kearney slammed over for the TD in fourth down from the 3. The try for placement was smothered.

Port Jervis tied the score with three minutes remaining on a 7-yard pass from Dick Pencek to Jim Rinkavage. The heave also came on fourth down.

NFA had one other threat, moving to a first down on the Port 10 in the second quarter but a holding penalty set them back 15 yards and stalled the drive.

Timetables Mean Nothing at Town Called Notre Dame

You won't find Notre Dame, Ind., listed on any railroad timetable or flight schedule. Nevertheless it's the destination of as many as 28 special trains and 175 private planes on Saturdays when the Fighting Irish play on Cartier Field.

An average of 10,000 cars and many buses also converge on the Notre Dame Stadium in the hours before game time.

Many of the special trains unload passengers on spur tracks on the campus. Other trains transfer passengers to campus-bound buses in nearby South Bend.

The four railroads serving South Bend hire up to 400 extra employees to service the specials. Arrangements for some of the special trains are made a year ago.

Specials come from such far flung points as Denver, Atlanta, New York and cities in Texas and Oklahoma.

In 1947 for the last Army-Notre Dame game, a record 51 specials arrived at South Bend.

Hawks Upset Lakers, 69-59

The Milwaukee Hawks have acquired a "new look" for the 1953-54 National Basketball Association season and it's a cinch that the Minneapolis Lakers don't recognize them as their cousins of a year ago.

The Hawks got away winging with a 69-59 victory over the defending champions in the league inaugural last night at Milwaukee. Western division cellar-dwellers during the 1952-53 campaign, Milwaukee could only beat the Lakers three times in ten meetings.

With but three holds over from last year's team, the Hawks pulled away to a 21-11 lead at the end of the first period and maintained their ten-point margin the rest of the way in the opener.

Rookie Irv Bemoras, a former Illinois standout, and 6-8 Lew Hitch, an ex-Laker who joined his new team only Thursday, topped Milwaukee in scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

The lone bright spot for the lethargic Lakers was their veteran 6-11 center, George Mikan, who was high with 12 points—six in the opening period.

Big Clyde Lovellette, erstwhile Kansas and Phillips Oil star, made his NBA debut with Minneapolis and contributed only three points—all on foul shots.

Giants Lose in This League, Too

Tokyo, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Tokyo Giants baseball team defeated the New York Giants 2-1 today—the first Japanese victory in 10 games—as Lefty O'Doul, former major league great, sat in the Tokyo Giants' dugout and helped mastermind the victory.

Pitcher Takumi Otomo gave up seven scattered hits and struck out seven New Yorkers before 30,000 cheering fans.

Shortstop Saburo Hirai hit a home run off losing pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm for the winning run in the 8th inning.

Today was the fourth Japanese victory over American major league teams since 1920.

Don Evans Faces Canadian Ace on Monday's Mat Show

Sharpe Bros. Defend Tag Team Title

Don Evans, nearby Flatbush farmer and one of the top attractions in wrestling will share the spotlight with the Australian tag team champions on Monday night's card at the municipal auditorium.

Evans, whose slam-bang tactics have earned him the nickname of "Kingston Killer" is to take on Danny Malone, a husky newcomer from Toronto in a one-fall, 45-minute bout.

The local grappler forgets the rules once the bell sounds. He made several appearances on TV shows from Chicago on Saturday nights in the past year and has topped many of the topnotchers since that time.

Despite his rough grappling, Evans is well grounded in all the fundamentals and figures to be difficult for the young Canadian to handle.

First Appearance

Malone, making his first appearance in Kingston, has been grappling with great success for many years north of the border.

The card is featured by an Australian championship tag team tussle featuring Mike and Ben Sharpe of Chicago, the current titleholders, and Wild Bill Melby and Billy Darnell, the logical contenders.

The Sharpe brothers, both well over six feet tipping the beam at 250 or better, broke in on TV a few weeks ago and were sensational. Despite their size, they move quickly and can drop kick and body slam with the best of them.

Melby and Darnell lost the tag trophy to the Canadians when Darnell was injured, giving up a fall and couldn't continue.

Monticello Harriers Capture DUSO Cross Country Championship

Schwartz Cracks Course Record In 11:22 Timing

Scores Surprise Win Over MHS McClelland

Lenny Schwartz broke the Monticello cross country course record as the Monties swept to the DUSO championship yesterday in quadrangular competition with Middletown, Newburgh and Kingston.

The mountain town thinned surprised the experts by outdistancing Middletown's highly regarded Gene McClelland by nine seconds.

Schwartz was clocked in 11:22, four seconds faster than the course record set several years ago by Monticello's Dick King, as the Monties finished with 36 points.

Kingston High, with a fourth place by John Browne (11:40) took second with 49 points, followed by Middletown with 50 and Newburgh Academy 57. Poughkeepsie High was not represented.

With NFA's Franklyn Russell bedded with a virus attack, the race was expected to be a cinch for the Middies' McClelland but Schwartz grabbed an early lead yesterday and held it all the way.

The DUSO harriers next turn their attention to the Section 9 meet next Saturday at Bear Mountain. A week later they compete in the New York State championships.

JVs Trip Arlington

With Robert Coale leading the pack, the KHS Jayvees harriers scored a 26-29 decision over Arlington JVs this week.

NFA-Port In 6-6 Tie

Two of the DUSO's winless football teams are still in the same boat.

Newburgh Academy and Port Jervis struggled through four furious quarters to 6-6 stalemate last night at the Red and Black gridiron.

Poughkeepsie High was expected to put the crusher on Middletown High today.

The Goldbacks marched 54 yards to score in the first period after receiving a Port Jervis punt. Don Kearney slammed over for the TD in fourth down from the 5. The try for placement was smothered.

Port Jervis tied the score with three minutes remaining on a 7-yard pass from Dick Pencek to Jim Rinkavage. The heave also came on fourth down.

NFA had one other threat, moving to a first down on the Port 10 in the second quarter but a holding penalty set them back 15 yards and stalled the drive.

Timetables Mean Nothing at Town Called Notre Dame

You won't find Notre Dame, Ind., listed on any railroad timetable or flight schedule. Nevertheless it's the destination of as many as 28 special trains and 175 private planes on Saturdays when the Fighting Irish play on Cartier Field.

An average of 10,000 cars and many buses also converge on the Notre Dame Stadium in the hours before game time.

Many of the special trains unload passengers on spur tracks on the campus. Other trains transfer passengers to campus-bound buses in nearby South Bend.

The four railroads serving South Bend hire up to 400 extra employees to service the specials. Arrangements for some of the special trains are made a year in advance.

Specials come from such far flung points as Denver, Atlanta, New York and cities in Texas and Oklahoma.

In 1947 for the last Army-Notre Dame game, a record 51 specials arrived at South Bend.

Hawks Upset

Lakers, 69-59

The Milwaukee Hawks have acquired a "new look" for the 1953-54 National Basketball Association season and it's a cinch that the Minneapolis Lakers don't recognize them as their cousins of a year ago.

The Hawks got away winging with a 69-59 victory over the defending champions in the league inaugural last night at Milwaukee.

Western division cellar-dwellers during the 1952-53 campaign, Milwaukee could only beat the Lakers three times in ten meetings.

With but three hold overs from last year's team, the Hawks pulled away to a 21-11 lead at the end of the first period and maintained their ten-point margin the rest of the way in the opener.

Rookie Irv Bemoras, a former Illinois standout, and 6-8 Lew Hitch, an ex-Laker who joined his team only Thursday, topped Milwaukee in scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

The lone bright spot for the lethargic Lakers was their veteran 6-11 center, George Mikan, who was high with 12 points—six in the opening period.

Big Clyde Lockett, erstwhile Kansas and Phillips Oiler star, made his NBA debut with Minneapolis and contributed only three points—all on foul shots.

Pitcher Takumi Otomo gave up seven scattered hits and struck out seven New Yorkers before 30,000 cheering fans.

Shortstop Saburo Hirai hit a home run off laboring pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm for the winning run in the 8th inning.

Today was the fourth Japanese victory over American major league teams since 1920.

There is no reason for people to have favorite fractions--unless they're fifths.

The farmers are working hard right now to turn out good old apple cider. Then the cider works hard!

Any little boy can tell you that in apple a day won't keep the doctor away--if it's a green one.

Why We Say--

TAKE A BACK SEAT

We tell someone to "take a back seat" when we want them to let others do the work. The expression started in England where those members of Parliament who belong to the majority party get the front seats and those in the minority are left with the "back seats."

An actress thought she had an excellent plan for keeping her diamond necklace safe. She always left it on her dressing-table with a note: "This is only an imitation. The real necklace is kept at the bank."

But one night she found it gone and in its place this note: "This necklace will do, thanks. I'm only a substitute myself. The burglar who looks after this territory is away on vacation."

A man boasted of having eaten 49 boiled eggs.

Listener--Why did you not eat one more and make it fifty?

Man--Humph, do you want a man to make a hog of himself just for one egg?

Alli Baba went up the entrance to the cave and cried:

Alli Baba--Open, Sesame!

Voice from within--Ses who?

Groaned one moth to another:

"I'll have to stop eating overcoats--I'm getting ulsters of the stomach."

Salesman--Yes, I got two orders on my first day as a salesman.

Boss--Fine! What were they?

Salesman--Get out and stay out.

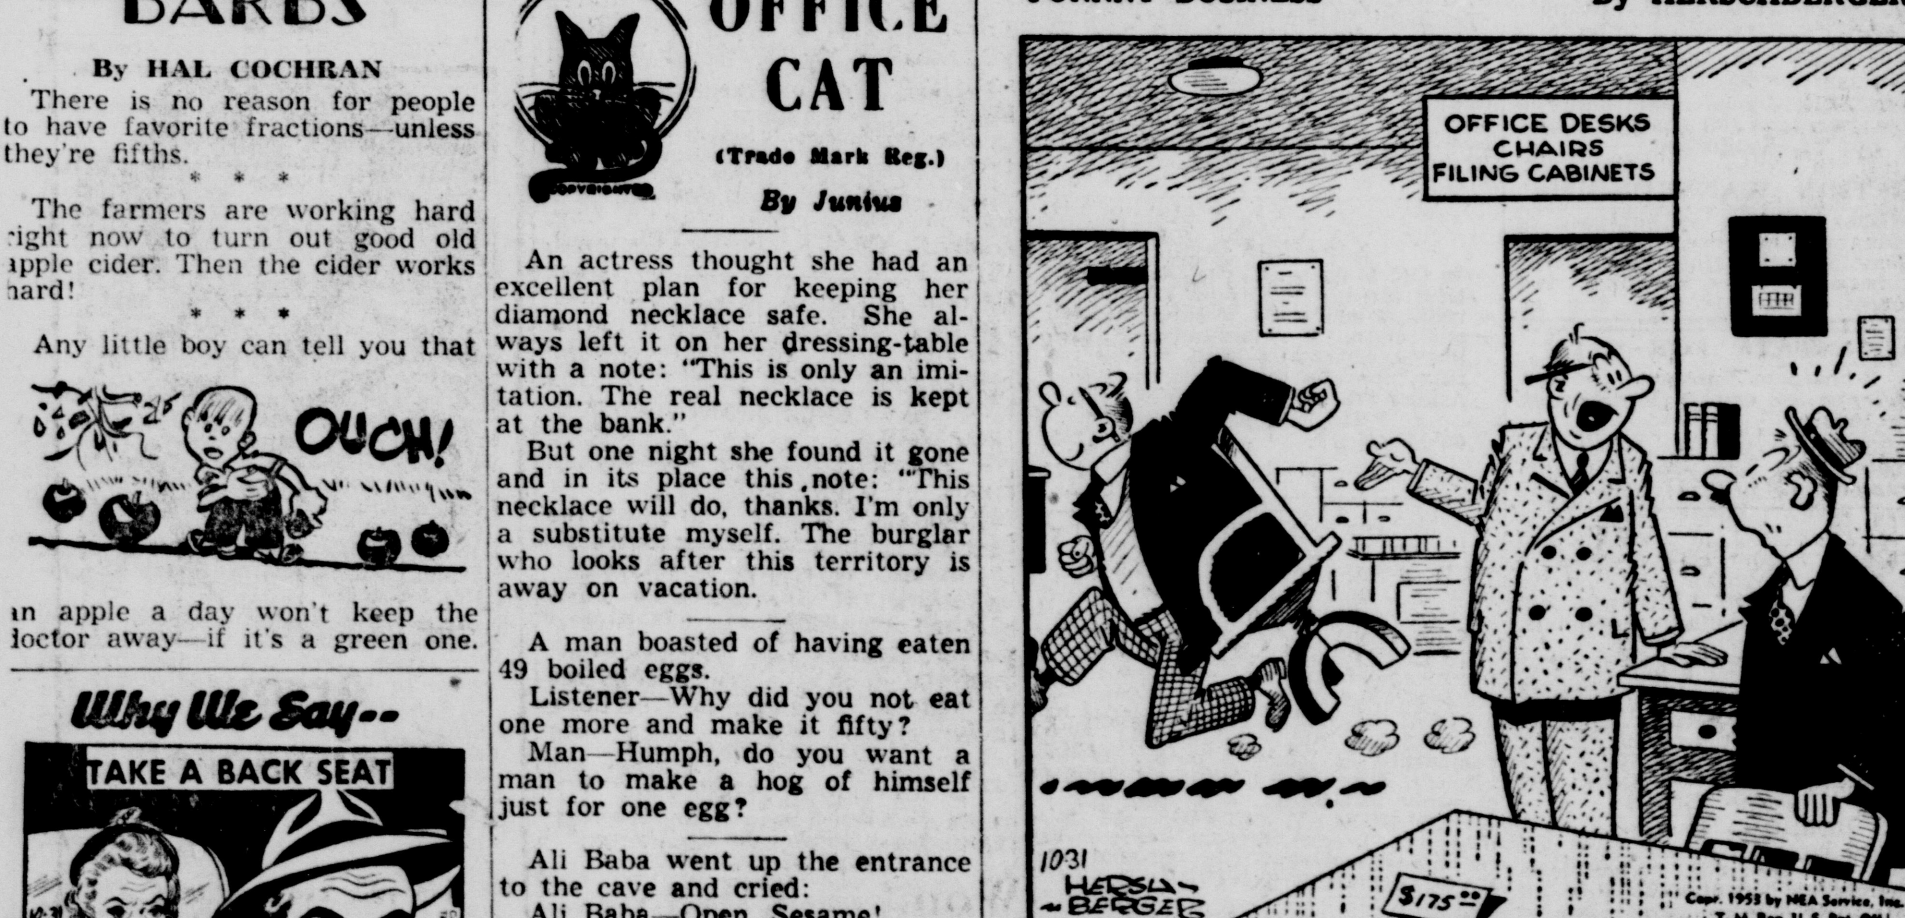

Careless drivers are too often starting something they can't stop.

Wife--I wonder why it is that fat men are always good-natured?

Hubby--Probably because it takes them so long to get mad clear through.

It wasn't exactly a free chance that South got, for he had to play the cards to perfection to land on the right side of the ledger.

East discarded a diamond on the first trump, and South won the trick thoughtfully. It was evident from the outset that care was necessary. South led a low club to dummy's queen and then cashed the ace of clubs, dropping the nine from his own hand.

The idea was to coax West to ruff an early round of clubs, but West shrewdly refused to ruff. Declarer led another club to his king, but West still refused to ruff. (If West had taken his trump trick early in the form of a ruff, South could have regained the lead, drawn trumps, and taken the clubs.)

When West persisted in his refusal to ruff, South simply led the four of hearts from his hand. West had to take his trump trick while dummy still had a trump. West promptly led the king of diamonds and followed it with the ace of diamonds, trying to shorten declarer's trumps, but South discarded a low spade instead of ruffing.

There was now nothing further for West to do. If he led a third diamond, dummy would ruff. (This was the point of giving up a trump trick while dummy could still keep a trump.) If West led a spade, South would take the ace of spades, draw the rest of the trumps, and then run the clubs.

South would have lost his contract, of course, if he had led a fourth round of clubs when the first three rounds of clubs went through. West would have been happy to ruff a fourth club, for then dummy would be dead. After ruffing, West would lead back another trump and just wait for the defending side to collect a diamond and two spades.

South would have lost his contract, of course, if he had led a fourth round of clubs when the first three rounds of clubs went through. West would have been happy to ruff a fourth club, for then dummy would be dead. After ruffing, West would lead back another trump and just wait for the defending side to collect a diamond and two spades.

More State Help For Education Is Asked by Boards

Greater state aid to education and release of the tax equalization report were requested in a resolution adopted at the 21st annual convention of the New York State School Boards Association which met in Syracuse Oct. 25-27.

Members of the Kingston Board of Education were among almost 3,000 trustees from 844 school districts in the state attending the convention.

Representing the local board were Clarence S. Rowland, president, Louis G. Bruhn and Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly.

The resolution requested the governor and the state legislature to expedite release of the "anxiously-awaited" tax equalization report.

The annual banquet, held Monday evening in Hotel Syracuse, was attended by more than 1,000 persons who heard Dr. Kenneth MacFarland, educational consultant to General Motors Corporation, urge that Americans accept the wisdom of the Chinese proverb "It is better to light one small light than to curse the darkness."

Kingston Youth Sings
Charles Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold of Manor avenue, was a member of the Colgate College group, Thirteen, which sang at the banquet.

In its final session a panel discussion on School Board Leadership in New York State was presented, defining the broader qualifications of positive, forward-looking board leadership. The panel urged anticipation of educational needs by boards of education and the participation of citizens in the affairs of the schools.
